ITALIAN NEUTRALITY AT A GLANCE

War Party is Clamoring for Action and Cabinet Mute to Determine Whether Italy is Bound to Come to the Support of Germany.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Rome, Aug. 5.—The war party is demanding that Italy rescind her declaration of neutrality and join with Germany and Austria. There has been a remarkable change of sentiment as a result of despatches from London saying that England had declared war on Germany. A subsequent dispatch stating that the British foreign office had placed responsibility for war on Germany came too late to alter the widespread demand that Italy act in accord with the treaty binding the triple alliance.
This binds Italy, Austria and Germany to help each other if attacked by a foreign foe. Heretofore Germany has been clearly the aggressor, but if it is established that England took the initiative against Italy's ally the government probably will be forced to act.
A special meeting of the cabinet was called today. At this Foreign Minister San Giuliano read a number of telegrams that he had received.
The meeting was called to determine whether Germany had been attacked and was therefore entitled to Italy's support.
There is a large number of straggled Americans here. A meeting called today was presided over by Prof. Nicholson of Wesleyan College. It was decided to cable to the American government for assistance in getting home.
Three American prelates are among those caught here and they have appealed to the American ambassador, Thomas Nelson Page, for help in returning. They are Bishop Hann of San Francisco, Bishop Seney of Wichita and Bishop Matz of Denver.
Members of the American Library Association are stranded at Florence.
Many hotels have volunteered to take care of the Americans until the situation is relieved and they are able to secure funds.

GERMAN TROOPS BURNING VILLAGES

By Telegram to The Freeman.
St. Petersburg, Aug. 5.—German troops invading Russian Poland are burning villages over an enormous stretch of territory.
The war office announced today that the Russian army had established contact with the enemy along the greater part of the front near Bialobrzegi.
A German fleet of 19 ships was signalled yesterday in the Baltic sailing from Memel in the direction of Libau.
GERMANS LOSE AND WIN IN BELGIUM
Frontier Forces of the Belgians Defeated But Liege Garrison Repulsed the Invaders—French and English Troops Invited Into Belgium.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Brussels, August 5.—Official announcement of a victory over the German invaders at Liege was made at the war ministry today. It was stated that though the Germans bombarded Liege and the forts defending it, the Liege garrison defeated the Kaiser's infantry in a fierce counter.

LIPTON'S YACHT HELD AT AZORES

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Aug. 5.—It was announced today that the Shamrock IV will be held at the Azores until the war is over. The race for the America's cup was called off last night.
Newport, R. I., Aug. 5.—All races of the two cup yachts, Resolute and Vanitie, have been declared off, pending definite word from Sir Thomas Lipton. Whether there will be a race for America's cup will depend on the owner of the Shamrock.

RUSSIAN AVIATOR KILLED BY GERMANS

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Vienna, Aug. 5.—M. Sikorsky, the famous Russian aviator, was killed today by German sharpshooters when he attempted to scout over the Kaiser's troops north of Lemberg on the Russo-German frontier, according to a despatch published by the Neue Freie Presse.
Two officers who were accompanying Sikorski and making maps of the country were also killed.
The machine was sighted by the German soldiers shortly after dawn. It was then well over Germany territory. When the alarm was given guns which had been brought from Berlin to prevent an attack by Russian aviators opened fire. The third shot struck the aeroplane and wrecked it, killing its three occupants.
This is the first aviation casualty recorded in the fighting between Germany and Russia.

GERMAN LINERS REACH NEW YORK

New York, Aug. 5.—Successfully running the gauntlet of hostile warships supposed to be scouting the high seas between this country and Europe, the President Lincoln of the Hamburg-American line, arrived today at Hoboken. She sailed from Hamburg last Wednesday with 863 passengers.
The steamer Kaiser Wilhelm II also arrived in port safely.
The British steamer Etanion, of the Phoenix line, which sailed last night for Antwerp, put back to port this morning after she received word that England and Germany were at war.

OLYMPIC SAFE IN NEW YORK HARBOR

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Aug. 5.—Making the fastest trip in her history and with the vessel in darkness part of the trip, the liner Olympic reached port today.
"For four nights" said Captain Haddock, "We have been proceeding with no lights aboard save the necessary ship's lights. Never have I found the ocean so quiet. Hardly a vessel spoke to another over its wireless. We sighted the British cruiser Essex off Halifax, but she did not convey us to New York. We could have outdistanced any hostile ship at the speed we were going."

Sailing Ships Captured.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Calais, France, Aug. 5.—The French torpedo destroyers Escepette and Durandel today captured two German sailing ships at the entrance to the North Sea.

Gang of Bad Boys.

Sunday evening a gang of three boys broke the windows in the apartments occupied by Wilson B. Elmendorf Andrew Hess and Crawford Klotke, 128 Tremper avenue. It was reported to the police.

HEAVY FIRING OFF COAST OF MAINE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Portland, Maine, Aug. 5.—Heavy firing off Portland was heard at seven o'clock this morning. From eight to ten shots were counted. The firing was also heard in Bath and Popham Beach. The observatories here were unable to see anything as a thick fog obscured vision a few miles to sea.
The sound of the firing seemed to come from a point about 30 miles from Portland near Seguin Island. The shots were quite distinct at Bath.
If a battle is in progress, it is believed to be between British, French and German cruisers. The British cruisers Lancaster and Berwick and the French cruisers Friant and Conde have been reported north of New York. The German cruisers are believed to be the Karlsruhe and Stuttgart.

At the Hospital.

Idella Alley was conveyed from her home, corner Washington avenue and North Front street, on Tuesday afternoon, in the city ambulance and taken to the Kingston City Hospital for treatment.

Vagrant Sent to Jail.

Andrew Jones was arrested by Ambulance Driver Simon Wood on Tuesday afternoon on a charge of vagrancy and this morning he was sentenced to five days in the county jail.

Five Days For Burns.

Paddy Burns, who was picked up drunk on Tuesday afternoon by Policeman Healey, was given five days in jail this morning by Recorder Grogan.

LUSITANIA SAILS UNDER CONVOY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Aug. 5.—Guarded by two English cruisers—the Essex and the Berwick—the British owned Cunard liner Lusitania, is speeding today for England with 200 passengers and $200,000 gold aboard. Lurking somewhere off the American coast are three German cruisers—the Dresden, Karlsruhe and the Strassburg—and there is a possibility that a naval battle may be fought in close proximity to the American coast over the possession of the giant liner.
The Lusitania, shortly after 1 a. m. today, pulled away from her berth and slid out into the bay. With a pilot aboard, she ran to Sandy Hook. The pilot was dropped there. Captain Patrick Dowd took the wheel, all lights were extinguished and with the engines going at full speed the Lusitania shot out to sea.
Just off the Sandy Hook, she picked up the two British cruisers as convoys, and the three ships started on the perilous 3,000 mile journey. In case of an attack by the German cruisers, it is believed the British warships will let the Lusitania slip ahead and engage the Germans in battle. If the English win they will steam up to the Lusitania and continue the escort. In case the Germans are victorious the Lusitania, depending on her speed, hopes to out-distance pursuit and will make the journey alone until she can get a protecting cordon of British warships from English waters.

Had a Long Walk.

Albert Kramer, William Downey and William Berman were picked up early this morning by Policeman Kuehn on a charge of acting in a suspicious manner at the West Shore station. When arraigned before the recorder later they said they had walked from New Kingston to this city. They had gone to the former place looking for work. On their promise to get out of town they were discharged.

Belgians Kill German Aviator.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Brussels, Aug. 5.—A German aviator flying over the Belgian frontier at a height of 125 feet was brought down today by a storm of Belgian bullets. His body was riddled and he was instantly killed.

Change at Hotel Barmann.

Melvin Beadle has sold his interest in the Barmann Hotel, corner of Broadway and Cedar street, to Abram Molloy, who has taken possession and will continue the hotel business.

GERMAN SHIP IN ENGLAND.

Liner Out of Coal Was Forced to Make British Port.
By Telegram to The Freeman.
Newport, Eng., Aug. 5.—A treasure ship carrying gold from America to Germany, fell into the hands of England today when the Hamburg-American liner Belgia was forced to put in here on account of lack of coal. The captain tried in vain to communicate with the German consul. The ship carried a large quantity of specie and is bound from Boston to Hamburg.

German Ship in England.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Boston, Aug. 5.—The liner Belgia sailed for Hamburg on July 24. The vessel is commanded by Captain Schmidt and is of 5,182 tons.

ENGLAND AND GERMANY HAVE DECLARED WAR

German Declaration at 7 O'Clock and British at 11 O'Clock Tuesday Night—Eight Nations Now Involved in Greatest of All Wars.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Aug. 5.—The greatest of all wars has begun. England has allied herself with France and Russia against Germany and Austria.

Though slow to decide upon her course, Great Britain struck quickly when the decision was reached. Her ships have already attacked those of Germany in the Mediterranean and are reported to have won a victory.

Her first home fleet now in the North sea will attempt to smash Germany's sea power forever if the Kaiser's ships will give battle.

Eight nations—Germany, France, England, Russia, Austria, Serbia, Belgium and Montenegro are engaged in this European Armageddon.

Their forces number 17,000,000 men. Four have great and powerful navies and the conflicts upon the sea will be as important, possibly more so, as those upon the land.

Count Lichowsky, the Kaiser's envoy, and his staff, prepared today to leave for Germany. Before going, the count paid a visit to the foreign office and said good bye to Sir Edward Grey. A great friendship exists between the two statesmen, after the estrangement of their nations, after years of harmony, saddened both men.

Count Albert Mensdorff, the Austrian ambassador, it is understood, will request his passports today with a view to leaving London immediately.

Official announcement that a state of war existed between England and Germany was made at 12:15 this morning by the foreign office. The announcement read:

"Owing to the summary rejection by the German government of the request made by His Majesty's government for assurance that the neutrality of Belgium be respected, His Majesty's ambassador at Berlin, and His Majesty's government declared to the German government that a state of war exists between Great Britain and Germany as from 11 p. m. on August 4."

The news that a state of war existed between Germany and England was given to the world about a half hour before midnight through an announcement made by the Central News Agency which declared that its information came officially from the foreign office.

The flash sent out by the Central News declared that England had made the first declaration of war, but the foreign office took exception to this statement and a bitter controversy has arisen between the two. The foreign office wishes it to be known that Germany declared war on England first, taking action at 7 p. m., while England did not make its declaration of a state of war until four hours later.

The Central News, in explaining its first flash stating that war existed, stated that at about 11:30 p. m., the foreign office gave to the waiting newspaper men a statement saying England had declared war on Germany. Almost immediately afterward it recalled this statement, but it was too late to head off the Central News which already had flashed out the first statement.

Subsequently, according to the Central News, the foreign office issued a statement saying that Germany declared war at 7 p. m., and that England took similar action at 11 p. m.

In commenting on the mix-up the Central News in its statement said: "The events of the night have demonstrated that even in high diplomatic circles heads are not always cool in the gravest crisis."

Weight is given to the statement of the Central News by the fact that at least 25 minutes before the foreign office made its official announcement at 12:15 a. m., the news that a state of war existed was being flashed to the British fleet in the North sea and to all naval and military stations in the British empire.

At midnight the whole armed strength of Great Britain began moving for an attack upon its German foe.

Throughout England today there is a feeling that the war that has been forced upon it will be the most horrible in the world's history. England shudders when it thinks of what must come through this war, but the fire of national patriotism burns brightly today, and the whole nation, stirred as never before, is willing to lay down its life in defense of its home country.

BROKERS MISS COMMISSIONS

Impatient to Resume Trading in Wall Street and Inclined to be Peevish Because Bankers Refuse Credit.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Aug. 5.—The New York stock exchange, suffering enormous loss to its members through inability to operate, is today approaching a clash with the banks. The attitude of the brokers toward the money kings is as yet one of "wanting to be shown" that the bankers are as secure as has been claimed, but they make it evident that if the money supply is abundant, they want to be enabled to resume business.

"We are waiting for word from the bankers" was the statement of one of the men prominent in stock exchange affairs.

"When they assure us that money is to be had for our business, the exchange will be reopened. We cannot proceed until the money situation is easy once more and until business conditions are safe. We suffered enough in the shrinkage of values before the exchange closed."

It was pointed out in the same quarter that the bankers have given out so rosy an impression of the money conditions in New York and elsewhere throughout the United States that the rates should presently go down to a point where trading would again be profitable.

"Some of the bankers are really cocky over the easy conditions of money for their business" said a leading broker.

"We have not been able to get the money for our own needs that would justify our resuming business just yet."

At the New York clearing house the committee which has been passing upon securities offered by members for the issuance of certificates was busy again today. How many millions in certificates have been approved thus far was an official secret, but the impression given out was that the demand had been less than anticipated.

The sub-treasury continued to issue emergency currency while declining to name the banks or the amounts of money given them for circulation. The sub-treasury officials emphatically denied that the amount called for had been so large as reported at the beginning of the issue. Up to today $15,433,000 of the currency had been taken in New York.

FOUGHT FOR A WOMAN.

Ulster Landing Residents Have a Scrap on Hasbrouck Avenue.

Tuesday afternoon Justino Ansanio met John Bormanato on Hasbrouck avenue and he accused John of running away with his wife. The argument soon led to blows and a lively fight was in progress when Policemen Welsh and Healey reached the scene and placed the men under arrest. They were arraigned that afternoon before Recorder Grosvenor and on their promise to get out of town they were allowed to go. Both parties live at Ulster Landing. A few days ago John and Mrs. Ansanio disappeared and Justino thinking they had come to Kingston, followed in search of his wife. After he was arrested Justino left town but John who evidently did not care to leave without Mrs. Ansanio, did not get out of town as he had promised, and he was again arrested. This morning he was arraigned and was fined $15 by the recorder. John was only able to dig up $10, and asked leave to telephone to a friend who furnished the missing $5, and took John's gold watch in exchange for the $5. Shortly after John had left police headquarters Mrs. Ansanio called at the city hall searching for John, but was informed that he had left. She also left but where she found her missing lover is not known.

Duffney, Not Duffner.

It was William Duffney of Steep Rocks, who was arrested on Monday evening for associating with Emily Lee, a notorious colored woman. Both parties were discharged when arraigned and Emily was warned to get out of town. The name was erroneously printed "Duffner." There are no persons of that name at Steep Rocks and none in the city that are not thoroughly reputable.

The Midnight Sun.

At certain seasons of the year, owing to the position of the earth, there is a territory in the arctic circle where the sun is above the horizon for weeks or months continuously, shining at night as well as during the day. Thus at North Cape, Norway, the sun is above the horizon continuously from May 12 to July 20 and at Bodo, not far from the arctic circle, from June 3 to July 7. Even in the extreme south of Norway there is no darkness from the end of April to the middle of August. In the winter, on the other hand, the sun is not visible at the North Cape from Nov. 18 to Jan. 23 and at Bodo from Nov. 15 to Dec. 27. There is only a twilight at midday. In the extreme south of Norway the sun is above the horizon for six and one-half hours at midwinter.—Philadelphia Press.

London in 1592.

In Gomme's "London" the author quotes from an account of this "large, excellent and mighty city of business" when Frederick Duke of Wurtemberg visited it in 1592. Here is an illuminating extract:

"Most of the inhabitants are employed in buying and selling merchandise and trading in almost every corner of the world. It is a very populous city, so that one can scarcely pass along the streets on account of the throng. The inhabitants are magnificently appareled and are extremely proud and overbearing, and because the greater part of them seldom go into other countries, but always remain in their houses in the city attending to their business, they are little for foreigners, but scoff at them."

MOUNTED POLICE PATROL AT WILBUR

At a meeting of the board of police commissioners held at the city hall on Tuesday evening, it was decided to purchase a horse for the police force and have a mounted patrol to cover the Wilbur district. Chief Wood assured the members of the board that he had three members on the force who would be able to stick on a horse and cover the beat without being thrown off. Commissioner Lay and Chief Wood were appointed a committee to secure a horse.

Since the days of "Jack" Barry the Wilbur district has not been patrolled and the several burglaries that occurred recently in that section has caused the householders to petition the board for police protection. As to properly cover the beat a policeman would have to walk several miles, it was thought that the best method of properly patrolling that section would be to have mounted police. The officer will also cover part of the Seventh ward. The rest of the meeting was devoted to regular routine business. Who the three policemen were who were able to stick on a horse was not mentioned.

LOCAL ANAESTHETICS

No one discovery has done as much to make dentistry painless as local anaesthetic. Now it is used in 24 cases out of 25 where painlessness is desired.

Local anaesthetic, when applied to the gums, makes the nerve which leads to a tooth insensible to pain for about two minutes. This is long enough for a skillful operator to pull or treat a tooth.

There is only one precaution, the local anaesthetic must be fresh. It disintegrates in about two weeks. We make ours fresh every three days and have never yet had it produce sore gums.

We extract teeth painlessly with this harmless local anaesthetic for 50c each.

BROKERS MISS COMMISSIONS

Impatient to Resume Trading in Wall Street and Inclined to be Peevish Because Bankers Refuse Credit.
By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Aug. 5.—The New York stock exchange, suffering enormous loss to its members through inability to operate, is today approaching a clash with the banks. The attitude of the brokers toward the money kings is as yet one of "wanting to be shown" that the bankers are as secure as has been claimed, but they make it evident that if the money supply is abundant, they want to be enabled to resume business.

"We are waiting for word from the bankers" was the statement of one of the men prominent in stock exchange affairs.

"When they assure us that money is to be had for our business, the exchange will be reopened. We cannot proceed until the money situation is easy once more and until business conditions are safe. We suffered enough in the shrinkage of values before the exchange closed."

It was pointed out in the same quarter that the bankers have given out so rosy an impression of the money conditions in New York and elsewhere throughout the United States that the rates should presently go down to a point where trading would again be profitable.

"Some of the bankers are really cocky over the easy conditions of money for their business" said a leading broker.

"We have not been able to get the money for our own needs that would justify our resuming business just yet."

At the New York clearing house committee which has been passing upon securities offered by members for the issuance of certificates was busy again today. How many millions in certificates have been approved thus far was an official secret, but the impression given out was that the demand had been less than anticipated.

The sub-treasury continued to issue emergency currency while declining to name the banks or the amounts of money given them for circulation. The sub-treasury officials emphatically denied that the amount called for had been so large as reported at the beginning of the issue. Up to today $15,433,000 of the currency had been taken in New York.

FOUGHT FOR A WOMAN.

Ulster Landing Residents Have a Scrap on Hasbrouck Avenue.

Tuesday afternoon Justino Ansanio met John Bormanato on Hasbrouck avenue and he accused John of running away with his wife. The argument soon led to blows and a lively fight was in progress when Policemen Welch and Hester reached the scene and placed the men under arrest. They were arraigned that afternoon before Recorder Grogan and on their promise to get out of town they were allowed to go. Both parties live at Ulster Landing. A few days ago John and Mrs. Ansanio disappeared and Justino thinking they had come to Kingston, followed in search of his wife. After he was arrested Justino left town but John who evidently did not care to leave without Mrs. Ansanio, did not get out of town as he had promised, and he was again arrested. This morning he was arraigned and was fined $15 by the recorder. John was only able to dig up $10, and asked leave to telephone to a friend who furnished the missing $5, and took John's gold watch in exchange for the $5. Shortly after John had left police headquarters Mrs. Ansanio called at the city hall searching for John, but was informed that he had left. She also left but where she found her missing lover is not known.

Duffney, Not Duffner.

It was William Duffney of Steep Rocks, who was arrested on Monday evening for associating with Emily Lee, a notorious colored woman. Both parties were discharged when arraigned and Emily was warned to get out of town. The name was erroneously printed "Duffner." There are no persons of that name at Steep Rocks and none in the city that are not thoroughly reputable.

The Midnight Sun.

At certain seasons of the year, owing to the position of the earth, there is a territory in the arctic circle where the sun is above the horizon for weeks or months continuously, shining at night as well as during the day. Thus at North Cape, Norway, the sun is above the horizon continuously from May 12 to July 29 and at Bodo, not far from the arctic circle, from June 3 to July 7. Even in the extreme south of Norway there is no darkness from the end of April to the middle of August. In the winter, on the other hand, the sun is not visible at the North Cape from Nov. 18 to Jan. 23 and at Bodo from Nov. 15 to Dec. 27. There is only a twilight at midday. In the extreme south of Norway the sun is above the horizon for six and one-half hours at midwinter.—Philadelphia Press.

London in 1592.

In Gomme's "London" the author quotes from an account of this "large, excellent and mighty city of business" when Frederick Duke of Wurtemberg visited it in 1592. Here is an illuminating extract:

"Most of the inhabitants are employed in buying and selling merchandise and trading in almost every corner of the world. It is a very populous city, so that one can scarcely pass along the streets on account of the throng. The inhabitants are magnificently appareled and are extremely proud and overbearing, and because the greater part of them seldom go into other countries, but always remain in their houses in the city attending to their business, they care little for foreigners, but scoff at them."

MOUNTED POLICE PATROL AT WILBUR

At a meeting of the board of police commissioners held at the city hall on Tuesday evening, it was decided to purchase a horse for the police force and have a mounted patrol to cover the Wilbur district. Chief Wood assured the members of the board that he had three members on the force who would be able to stick on a horse and cover the beat without being thrown off. Commissioner Lay and Chief Wood were appointed a committee to secure a horse.

Since the days of "Jack" Barry the Wilbur district has not been patrolled and the several burglaries that occurred recently in that section has caused the householders to petition the board for police protection. As to properly cover the beat a policeman would have to walk several miles, it was thought that the best method of properly patrolling that section would be to have mounted police. The officer will also cover part of the Seventh ward. The rest of the meeting was devoted to regular routine business. Who the three policemen were who were able to stick on a horse was not mentioned.

LOCAL ANAESTHETICS

No one discovery has done as much to make dentistry painless as local anesthetic. Now it is used in 24 cases out of 25 where painlessness is desired.

Local anesthetic, when applied to the gums, makes the nerve which leads to a tooth insensible to pain for about two minutes. This is long enough for a skillful operator to pull or treat a tooth.

There is only one precaution, the local anesthetic must be fresh. It disintegrates in about two weeks. We make ours fresh every three days and have never yet had it produce sore gums.

We extract teeth painlessly with this harmless local anesthetic for 50c each. Open Evenings till 9, Sundays 9 to 11

GREATEST WAR.

It is not difficult to place the blame. Many of us are of German birth or descent, but that cannot blind us to the fact that Germany had the power to decide between peace and war and that she deliberately chose war. Russia, France and England have been compelled to fight or suffer themselves to be made vassals of the Kaiser. President Wilson has issued a proclamation forbidding Americans to enlist in the war, but no proclamation can restrain sympathy. Neither, for that matter, can it prevent enlistment by men who are willing to sacrifice their lives in the cause of civilization. The ascendancy of Germany in world politics would mean the exaltation of militarism and the continued burdening of the various peoples with intolerable taxes. Her crushing defeat, which is bound to occur, will deal a death blow to "War Lords" the world over. All the "Meinself and Gott" business will be relegated to the rubbish heap.

At the moment there seem to be no really big men in Europe, but one or more will arise during this crisis. These leaders will see that an entirely new system must be instituted. It is evident that Hague Conferences and the like are failures. They are about as efficient as lady policemen. There will have to be something in the nature of an international army which, in the event of such a quarrel as that between Austria and Serbia, would disarm both combatants and compel them to arbitrate. The weakness of the Hague plan is that it does not require arbitration of quarrels affecting "national honor." That idea is as ridiculous as it would be to provide that individual citizens should be permitted to ignore the law whenever they conceived their "personal honor" to be involved. The world is paying a big price to be taught that elementary principle.

Business men will find it inadvisable to base their plans upon the theory that the war will be over in a few months, as so many people think. Senator Williams of Mississippi said yesterday: "I am one of the few informed men in this country who does not rely on predictions that this war will be over in a month. The Boer war lasted three years, and this may last for several." In our own "late unpleasantness" it was at first generally believed that victory would be achieved in a few weeks. In fact, after the battle of Bull Run a considerable number of Confederate soldiers went home without taking the trouble to notify their officers, believing that they had already "licked the Yanks." Yet we know what happened. History has a way of repeating itself.

The newspapers have a difficult task before them in collecting war news. The press associations have correspondents everywhere, but that does little good when the authorities insist on editing their despatches. Germany is going so far as to detain American tourists within her borders for fear that they might tell what they know. Since the ordinary tourist speaks German imperfectly or not at all, and has no means of getting inside knowledge, the obvious inference is that Germany has some kind of skeleton in her closet. Nevertheless, in spite of all devices, all the facts will be published sooner or later. It is hardly possible that everybody who knows how to observe and to write will be made away with.

A FAITHFUL HORSE.

(By Our Woman Editor.)

On the road leading into Pittsfield, Mass., where farmer folk, automobilists, riders all, and every horse that travels the highway, can easily see it, is a big stone watering-trough bearing the eloquently simple inscription:

In Memory of Frank,

A Faithful Horse.

As it stands there, hospitably offering refreshment to all four-footed travelers on the road and silently telling of the love of some member of the big human family for his staunch old friend, it is more than a practical expression of appreciation of long, faithful service—it is a charming bit of sentiment very delightful to find. And it is a mighty person who looks at that without a man of heart unanswering himself.

Out there where all is calm and bright and peaceful and where the very hills and skies beautifully sing of love and kindness to every living thing, it scarcely seems that a watering-trough would be anything more than a watering-trough, practically set on the hills.

But it is. And one fancies that more than one traveler along the roadway has paused to read a little sermon right there and perhaps to wish that folk who have reason to remember "a faithful horse" might oftener find a way to tell the story abroad and to spread a bit of comfort among others of his kind.

If all the folk, or half the folk, or just a tiny proportion, who have enjoyed and mightily benefited from the services of horses, true to the end, established drinking troughs or something else, to pass the story along—ah, but every big city, every town, every wee little hamlet on the hills, every long-stretching road, would be alive with the glad tributes.

We would not need them all, so many there would be, but a few now and then, like the trough on the roadway would be refreshing and wholesome for the beast, as refreshing and wholesome for the man. Because it is true that all of us are the kindlier for the evidences of kindness, more appreciative when some one sets a telling example and more thoughtful when that is another's pleasant way.

It would be well for every city to have an abundance of not just plain, unadorned, drinking troughs, but troughs with inscriptions reminding folk who need to be reminded that their horses are dear, faithful friends, too often dropping in harness without ever having heard many kind words.

And it would be even better, perhaps, if the "prayer of the horse," that simple prayer asking for consideration treatment, for exemption from the goading whip, for release from overloading, under-feeding and all the hardships that an unhappy horse passes through, might be tacked up, framed up, in the most public of places, that all careless drivers might see. For there are men and boys who handle horses as indifferently, as thoughtlessly and cruelly as if they were unfeeling machines, instead of the big mass of quivering sensitive flesh and nerves that they are.

And possibly they might not if they were oftener reminded of the duty of man to the splendid beast whose life and every-day services are all his, with not a thing coming back in return except as it falls by way of kindness, to which a horse always beautifully responds.

As for me, if I were sending out a horse, or the many, to work every day, the driver would simply have to worry along somehow without a whip in his hands. For it is positively sickening to note the readiness with which some drivers draw upon that every-ready instrument of torture, or whatever they are pleased to call it. When a horse stumbles he is shocked enough, without the added surprise and hurt of the whip; and when he is frightened, as he is many times, it is unthinkable that he should be frightened still more by the cruel sting of the lash in the hands of one whose greatest concern should be to calm him.

And if the prayer of the horse were a bit more familiar to those who need to know it by heart, or, falling in that, if the whip were withheld from their hands this would be a happier world for the hard-working horse, and for some who work only to give pleasure.

It is unlikely that the person to whom faithful old "Frank" was a friend and who responded by erecting an every-day monument to his memory, ever dreamed that the tribute and the fine thought back of it would delight as many travelers as undoubtedly it has, all happy to know that one horse, at least, was loved and appreciated down to the last, and that the comfort of others was remembered in his faithful name.

Yes, sentiment has a delightful place in the world, particularly when along with sentiment comes an act that shines with its practical thought.

FRANCES SHAFFER.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"How is the new man?" "Oh, he works some. He has to work some, in order to be able to quit when the whistle blows."—Houston Post.

"Jinks and his wife never agree about anything." "I beg your pardon. They agree on the point that each married a fool."—Baltimore American.

Cynicus—"I once knew a fellow who gave a girl an engagement ring of opals." Sillicus—"Gracious! Wasn't it unlucky?" Cynicus—"You bet it was! She married him."—Judge.

Aunt—"Ethel, hasn't that Mr. Watkins proposed yet?" Ethel (a golfing maid)—"Not yet, auntie. His approach work is all right, but then he gets nervous and fumbles."—Boston Transcript.

"Lan'sakes, where did Hi Medders' boy get them outlandish clothes?" "He just came from kelligan an' I suppose that's one of those New Haven suits that ye read so much about nowadays."—Buffalo Express.

"Now tell us," sternly demanded the young legal luminary whose brow overhung like the back of a snapping-turtle, addressing the cowering witness, "what was the weather, if any, upon the afternoon in question?"—Puck.

"I would have you understand," said the actor who was talking of salary for next season, "that I have arrived." "I guess that's right," answered the manager, who was once a railroad conductor; "and having arrived, here is where you get off."—Washington Star.

Heavy-Handed.

Postmaster General Burleson smiled, at a luncheon in Washington, over the suggestion that the parcel post's rivalry of the express companies was bad for the people's transport trade.

"Bad for the people," said Mr. Burleson. "Well, sir, when you say that, you remind me, in your abysmal ignorance, of one of our oldest post-office stories."

"According to this story, a postmaster said to a customer: 'This letter won't go for 2 cents.' 'What's the matter with it?' 'Too heavy.' 'Too heavy, hey? Well that's just about what I expected. My son wrote that letter, and I told him at the time he was writing' too heavy a hand; but he kept bearin' down and bearin' down. Here give it back. I'll take it home and make him do it over in lead pencil.'"

Raphael's Prices.

The Panshanger Madonna of Raphael has been bought by P. A. B. Widener for $700,000. Of this picture George B. Luks, the well-known New York artist, told a story.

"A friend of mine in Washington Square," he said, "was showing his canvases to a lady from Wawa. 'And here, madam,' he said, 'is an exact copy of the Panshanger Raphael which Mr. Widener has just bought for $700,000. And all I ask for it is a $5 bill.' 'What's the cause of the difference in price?' said the lady from Wawa. 'Competition, ma'am,' said the artist. 'The business isn't what it used to be.'"

Did Not Fit.

When Representative H. Sutherland of West Virginia was a lad about fourteen he decided one spring to start out on a tramp like the boys in the Alger books. So with two friends he began a hike which comprised many weary miles and a good deal of heading his way on trains till he landed way up in the northwestern states. There he remained for the next six months, and came back home with $75 in his jeans.

Sutherland worked in a government position in Washington for many years, then went out to cast his lot amid the wilds of West Virginia. He offered his services to the campaign managers, and they were accepted, but the managers took the precaution to send him out in the sparsely settled districts to "cut his teeth."

In his room in the city, worked up a fine speech and memorized it perfectly. He would stay up at night for weeks declaiming to an imaginary audience. His first assignment proved to be Stubberville, and he did not get there till late at night with his one speech.

But promptly at 8 he mounted the stage, drank the customary glass of water and started. The subject was the panic of 1893. Tearing up his hair and hammering the table till one leg broke, he poured out a torrent of Niagara-like eloquence.

"Gentlemen and ladies, he shouted in winding up his mighty effort. 'You all remember the time of terror that reigned then—how the engines in your factories were stifled, the wheels of your industries rusted and how along your broad streets swept the workless man, the empty dinner pail hanging on the languid arm of labor, as your hungry crowds surged down these handsome avenues.'"

Just then he took a look at his audience—it consisted of seven men, a woman asleep with a baby in her arms, two dogs fighting in a corner, and the "road avenue" was only a steep muddy trail down the mountainside.

Speeches manufactured in city factories don't always fit.—Washington Star.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown of Astoria, L. I., have returned home after a very delightful two weeks at Cedar Hill Farm.

The several guests at Cedar Hill Farm enjoyed a moonlight ride to Binnewater on Tuesday evening.

J. S. Moulton, who has been at his farm "The Echo Spring" for the past six weeks, has returned to New York city.

Hurley Crossroads.

Mrs. Jane Elmendorf has returned from a six weeks' visit to her son, William Elmendorf, at Willimantic, Conn.

Loughran Elmendorf, who is employed with his uncle at Haines Falls, during the summer season, spent Sunday at the home of his parents.

Christopher Van Vleet is going to move from the Dahme place to Judge Van Ethen's place on the Hurley road, which D. B. Barley now occupies.

Mr. Barley has resigned his place as boss farmer for the judge and leaves in the near future.

Fourth Binnewater.

Mr. Williams of Kingston and a friend were fishing on the Fourth Lake. They caught two very fine bass.

A fire in the woods on the hill furnished some excitement to break the monotony.

Mrs. John Wiget and children and Mrs. Wicket of Poughkeepsie are guests for a few days of Mrs. George Walton.

Miss Mina Stokes has returned home after spending a week at Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Banks of Kingston is stopping for a few days with her father, Christopher Stokes.

Mrs. Oliver Dietz made a short visit at Marletown, stopping with her brother-in-law, Floyd Dietz.

Mrs. E. Hayes spent Thursday shopping in Kingston.

Mrs. Bert Pine was in Kingston Thursday.

Mrs. Moses Stokes and family are spending a few days with Christopher Stokes.

J. L. Strigham spent a few days at his bungalow this week and improved his time while here painting. This bungalow has one of the prettiest sights on Lake Hill.

Lloyd Prall expects to rent his bungalow this week.

Fourth Binnewater Sunday school is well attended this summer. It expects to hold a picnic some day of the week beginning August 9. Will state later.

Mrs. Thomas Chambers had a guest from down the river on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayes called on Mrs. L. Prall on Sunday and also on Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lasher spent Sunday up the Ulster and Delaware railroad.

Maple Hill.

William Rupp, who has been stopping with George Kallop for the past three weeks, has returned home to Newark, N. J.

Mrs. Richard O'Neill and daughters, Helen and Mary, and Mrs. Dugan and children of Rosendale spent one day this week with Mrs. O'Neill's sister, Mrs. Teresa Trandle.

Miss Cecelia A. Francis, Miss Mary A. Garrow, Mrs. J. C. Bush, Mrs. H. McCann and Miss Anna F. McCann, all of New York city, are guests of the Misses Hardenburg at Old Orchard Farm House.

George Kallop is kept very busy hauling wood for the supply of the summer boarders with, as you can see him most any time of the day with a load on going past.

Mrs. William Steinhilber entertained some friends from Whiteport Friday evening. The evening was spent by playing and singing of solos.

Mrs. James Coon and daughter, Fannie, called on her daughter one day last week.

Dr. Rudd and family of Brooklyn have rented the Maple Hill House for the season.

Miss Eldred of Brooklyn is stopping with Miss Dillon at "Ye Colonial."

Whiteport.

Before a crowd of between 850 and 900 people the Whiteport A. C. was again defeated by the crack Rosendale team on Sunday afternoon by a score of 5 to 9. McCarthy, who jumped to the Federal League, is certainly missed by the local fans. The battery for Rosendale was Fleming and O'Neill and for Whiteport Lyons and Brown.

Miss Mary McKie spent Friday last in Kingston.

Schryver has secured a position at Schryver's garage in Kingston.

"The Broches," which accommodates about 150 people, is filled to its capacity.

F. Smith, who is employed in Kingston, spent Tuesday with his parents.

P. McCarthy, who is employed as captain on one of the river boats, is spending several days at the home of his mother.

Miss Mary McGrath, who is employed in Kingston, is spending her vacation here.

The Misses Julia Kelly, Winifred and Margaret Forgie spent one day of last week in Kingston.

A surprise party was held at the home of Miss Kathryn Fassel on Friday evening, and all report having a fine time.

A number of young ladies enjoyed a motorboat sail on the Fourth Lake Friday evening.

Fire Near New Palm.

The large barn of A. Andrews on the "Indian Farm," formerly the James Ean property on the state road near New Palm, was destroyed by fire on Monday afternoon. All the crops from the farm were destroyed. Paul Jansen, has been occupying the farm. Spontaneous combustion is thought to have been the cause of the fire.

Walden Farmers' Outing.

The old home week began at Walden this morning. Hundreds of people were in attendance. Over fifty horses are entered in the races which will be run off today and Thursday.

The World.

RICH AMERICANS BUY A STEAMER

Travelers Who Have Reached London
Tell of Their Sufferings at the Hands of Rapacious Frenchmen.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, August 5.—The panic among the thousands of Americans stranded in London was partially relieved today when it was announced that a few of the wealthy men caught here with their countrymen by the outbreak of war would purchase the steamer Viking, 8,500 tons, and having cabin accommodations for 400 passengers. The Viking will sail from Liverpool for New York on Monday, August 10. The committee invited Americans in distress to file applications for bookings at their headquarters at the Savoy hotel.

William C. Breen, counsel for the Merchants' Association of New York, has arrived here from Paris after adventures in escaping from the continent which read like the most approved fiction. He expressed doubt of the ability of any more Americans to get away from the countries now plunged into war. The last incident before the boat sailed from Boulogne was typical of everything that happened along the route.

The Frenchmen all knew how desperate we are to get home," he explained. "They stopped at nothing to make profits out of our mad rush. At Boulogne they withheld the labels which it is necessary to have pasted on luggage to get through. The customs officers sold them at any price they could get. I paid $10 for two, only to discover that some other French porter was holding on to the paste itself, trying to charge $5 to paste on each label. I beat out this gouge by wiping off paste from trunks already labelled until I accumulated enough on my fingers to paste on my two labels myself."

John Knox Stevens of New York arrived in the morning on the Minne-waska and went immediately to Charing Cross station, where he found a train leaving for Paris at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. When he left New York, Stevens intended spending a month or two with his wife and sister-in-law in a suburb of Paris, where he expected to become a father, but wireless messages received aboard ship caused him to change his plans so as to do everything in his power to get his wife out of the war zone before the birth of the child. At the American embassy he told Secretary Bell of his situation and got an emergency passport in short order. He rushed to the French embassy, where he got the passport, and just managed to catch the train. He plans to get his wife and sister-in-law back to London, and by ship to New York, if possible.

Mrs. G. J. Waters of New York, whose daughter married a French count, and who came to London on the last trip of the Mauretania to visit her daughter after a four years' separation, started for Paris last Friday. An hour after she reached Paris Saturday morning her son-in-law, Count de Maureville, stated for the frontier, taking his wife, who will be placed in a nearby fortress. Mrs. Waters left alone, began the trip back to London.

"Paris was in an uproar," she said. "The streets were packed with cheering mobs, the railway station was a madhouse jammed to suffocation by fighting human animals struggling to board the train. In the confusion somebody in that surging mob stole my pocketbook and handbag containing all my money and jewels. Before I could find my luggage I was literally hurled into the train and had to leave it behind. Flung into a dirty compartment with 20 others, I suffered indescribable tortures in the foul air and heat. The train was stopped twice, and everybody was dragged out by soldiers seeking for spies. One man said to be deserting was taken away to be shot. At Dieppe the boat was waiting, already overcrowded, but we were all packed aboard until the boat was nearly ready to capsize. We had no money to buy food and no chance to rest, as every inch of deck was occupied by snoring, cursing men."

Mrs. Waters is now at the Berkeley hotel.

Byron Chandler, husband of Grace La Rue, was another victim who just escaped being stranded in France. "I went to Deauville on Saturday," he said "and intended to stay several weeks. I had just unpacked my trunks when the Hotel Royal was ordered closed by the authorities. The guests were hustled out, their baggage piled in the court yard, and nobody had even time to get the clothes left behind in their rooms. At the same time the servants and porters left town to join the army and 200 guests were left flat. All of us finally jammed into a little boat, licensed to carry 80 persons, and were taken to Havre. Our baggage is still at Dieppe, because there was no room for it aboard. The hotel let me go without paying my bill, rather than take English gold. At Havre, another big crowd of refugees was waiting. Many carried underclothing and all sorts of things in their arms."

"The train had been held up four miles outside Havre and the passengers ordered to open their trunks and take such things as they could carry and leave the rest. The train went no further. All had to walk to the Havre docks. Twenty-one Americans were left at the docks at the mercy of the soldiers, the owners preferring the loss of the cars to missing the channel steamer."

Dr. George F. Root, Henry McManus and S. B. Hamnell of Philadelphia, were bound for Antwerp on the American liner Finland when off the Isle of Wight, last night they were stopped by a British torpedo boat and the vessel searched for contraband of war. The same thing happened again off Portsmouth harbor. This time the captain of the Finland was warned to keep out of the North sea or he might get hurt. It was hinted that a big naval battle was expected at any hour. Later at Dover a harbor boat came out and ordered the Finland to anchor and discharge all cabin passengers, who were sent to London by the naval authorities. Still later the Finland was ordered back to Southampton with the steerage passengers to await further orders.

The Great Eastern Railway Company has issued a notice stating that the company would accept and cash express companies' checks, travelers' checks and similar paper all day Thursday but that no more than $50 would be given to any individual.

The American citizens' committee is doing big work to provide temporary relief for the men and women who are actually suffering for want of proper food and shelter, to obtain sufficient steamship accommodations to get them all home as speedily as possible. Eighty thousand other Americans are known to be trying to get out of the continent to make their way to London. Worse still, it is known that there are 50,000 other Americans scattered from Norway to Greece, who are so far away from any chance of transportation that their plight must be absolutely desperate.

These figures are based on the known fact that 100,000 Americans crossed the ocean this summer and that only 20,000 returned before the outbreak of hostilities between Austria and Serbia. Ten thousand Americans are stranded in London, most of them without cash or clothes beyond what is on their backs, they having left their luggage behind them on the continent, from which they have fled precipitately.

TENER BELIEVES BASEBALL WAR HURTS GAME.

Gov. John Tener.
New York, August 5.—Expressing the belief that the majority of the fans of the country are tired of baseball wars, Gov. Tener, president of the American League, says that he believes the interests of the players as well as the spectators would be best served by calling a halt. The baseball parks have been neglected this year, Tener says, not so much because fans are tired of the national game as because they prefer peace. "Quit the mud" slinging, says Tener, and you'll get the business.

LEIBHARDT.
Leibhardt, Aug. 5.—Miss Sylvia Quick and sister, Mrs. Gertrude Rose, of Amsterdam are spending their vacation at the home of their mother, Mrs. J. J. Quick.

Miss Georgia Hornbeck spent Monday in Kingston. Miss Emily Quick who has been with Mrs. Eva Warren for two weeks, has returned home.

Miss Hilda Myers of Rochester has been engaged to teach our district school for the coming year. Miss Myers comes well recommended and we hope for a very successful school year.

Services were well attended on Sunday afternoon and the Rev. Mr. Voight preached an interesting sermon.

The M. E. Sunday school will hold their annual picnic and party on the school house lawn Saturday afternoon and evening, September 5. Muller's orchestra from Kingston has been engaged to furnish music for the afternoon and evening. All kinds of refreshments will be for sale. Everybody invited to come and have a good time.

Mrs. J. Harris of New York is spending four weeks at Ivy Cottage. Sunday school at 2 o'clock and preaching services at 3 o'clock every Sunday afternoon at the M. E. Church.

Mrs. Mary Markle and daughter, Edna, of Mettacahtons attended services at this place on Sunday afternoon.

A number from Leibhardt will attend the Ellenville fair next week. Miss Georgia Hornbeck was a guest of her friend, Mrs. L. E. Lawrence, for supper Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Quick of Tongore and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lounsbury of Mombaccus were guests of Mrs. J. J. Quick Sunday.

BRANCH.

Branch, August 5.—A young man perhaps sixteen years of age from the city, who is spending some time here, was held up and robbed by an Italian on the cross road from East Branch to West Branch, which crosses near Oscar Satterlee's. The holdup occurred on Sunday afternoon while the young man was returning from East Branch, where he had been spending a few days with friends. He was held fast by two men until he released him of twenty cents, some letters and a handkerchief. The young man was kicked himself he ran as fast as he could until he could hire an automobile to take him to Claryville, where he notified Constable Joseph Coon. An Italian answering in every way the description of the one who escaped from the officers at Phoenixia after being arrested for shooting and robbing a minister in Margaretville last week, passed through this place on Wednesday. He was later seen in Claryville, and he evidently is the same one who helped up and robbed the young man on the lonesome road on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Marvin Van Demark, who underwent an operation at the Kingston City Hospital three weeks ago, is able to leave the hospital and is now stopping at George Wager's in Kingston.

Kathryn Satterlee spent Sunday at Oscar Satterlee's.

Jack Hornbeck was quite seriously injured while drawing hay for Lorenzo Brackman on Sunday.

Mrs. Wilbur Barkman took her two sons, Pay and Ralph, to Grahamville on Saturday and had them vaccinated.

William Dickson is helping Shorty Satterlee in haying.

Gertrude Brooks, the housekeeper at Winnisook, who has been ill, is able to resume her duties again.

Harry Meeker and family of New York are now occupying their cabin at Winnisook for the first season.

Marvin Van Demark has been hauling lumber to Shandaken. E. B. Hughson is spending a few days out of town.

Everybody is busy with haying and it seems to be a very good crop.

Avis Van is spending some time out of town.

Claude Taylor of Claryville was a caller at Oscar Satterlee's on Sunday.

Manley Murray and Harry Cole are wearing deputy sheriff's badges. Let's hope they will get busy and capture the Italian who has been causing so much annoyance in this place during the past few days.

Charles S. Daley, who has been spending a few days in New York city, has returned to his residence in this place.

WEST PARK.

West Park, Aug. 5.—The Peripatetic Philosopher in his rounds last Saturday, came to the Ascension Church and in the park north of this structure witnessed the gayest, happiest throng of people it has been his fortune to see for many a day. The church was giving its annual lawn fête and not only all the parishioners, but all the neighborhood were invited. There was James Ackert, Sr., of 88 years old, and there were babies of hardly 38 days, and all sorts and sizes of children and adults besides, so that by actual count there were over 200 present. The entertainment was of a varied and pleasing character. A looking backward dance by four couples, two delightful comedies, two most acceptable solos, a piano and violin duet, several recitations and an orchestra consisting of cornet, violin and piano, ice cream and cake served the inner man, and was perhaps not the least pleasing part of the afternoon's entertainment. The weather was all that could be desired and the philosopher could not help feeling very thankful for the happiness of so many.

All persons are now looking forward to the historical pageant which is to take place on Saturday, August 15, on the Gordon field, a short distance from the station. Miss Hilda Smith, the manager, has bestowed much time and labor, mental and otherwise, upon this production and has been ably seconded by the officers and other members of the Neighborhood Association. With propitious weather, the pageant will be a very pleasing entertainment.

Mrs. J. J. Smith and Miss Helen Smith have gone to New York for a few days. Mrs. Hoort has also gone to the metropolis.

Miss M. Maud Earnest left West Park on Tuesday morning after a six weeks' visit at the Ascension rectory. She returns to her duties at the Hatmaker Private Hospital at Penn Yan.

Miss Margaret DeVoe of Esopus is spending a few days with Miss Hilda Smith at "Heartsease."

Miss Schwartz of Poughkeepsie has been visiting her friend, Miss Gretchen Schickel.

Mr. Reynolds, who cut his arm a few days ago is recovering.

Mrs. Carrie Gludart returned on Saturday from a brief visit in New York.

Wallace Decker is visiting his grandfather near New Paltz.

The philosopher has kept his eyes and ears open but has ceased his wanderings for a few days.

FLATBUSH.

Flatbush, Aug. 5.—Miss Mary Terwilliger of Kingston is the guest of Mrs. William Keiffer.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the festival held on the church lawn grounds last Wednesday evening, was quite a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Buckley of Kingston were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Myer on Sunday.

Mrs. Howard Burhans is spending some time with the Rev. and Mrs. George Dangremont at New Hurley.

Mrs. Davies and children of New York are stopping at Mrs. Fred Burhans's.

Miss Anna Snyder of Katrine and Miss Osterhout of Kingston were the guests of Mrs. Harry Davis last week.

Mrs. Nathan Griffin and Miss Katherine Griffin of Kingston visited at the home of Elliot Griffin last week.

Miss Juanita Burhans has been spending some time with her grandfather, Charles Burhans.

Several of our ladies and girls enjoyed a picnic by the river last week. All report a fine time.

Mrs. George Whitehead of Kingston has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Swart.

Mrs. Markle of Albany is visiting at the home of Erastus Osterhout.

Accident to Highland Clergyman.

The Rev. George Davis, pastor of the Highland M. E. Church, sustained a painful accident in Poughkeepsie on Monday. He was walking along the street near the dock when his foot caught in a piece of iron sheeting and he was thrown to the ground. Mr. Davis received a deep gash in his forehead and also broke one rib.

Bad Roads.

You may avoid a bad road by getting first hand information from the Tourist Service Bureau, operated by Smith Brothers' restaurant, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Box lunches prepared for those who are in a hurry.—Advertisement.

HOW PIRATES GOT NICKNAME

Cognomen Given Pittsburgh Team Because of Kidnaping of Louis Bierbauer, Star Player.

The Pittsburgh team, commonly called the Pirates, got that name as the result of the kidnaping of Louis Bierbauer, a star second baseman, from the Athletics way back in 1888 or 1889. At that time there was a working agreement between the National league and the American association by which neither organization was permitted to reserve more than fifteen players at the close of the season.

The owners of the Athletics, in the American association, desired to keep sixteen of their men, but as only fifteen could be legally reserved, the only way open was to leave one name off the list and take a chance on no other club picking up the player. Accordingly, the Athletic management failed to name Bierbauer in its reserve list, hoping the omission would be overlooked. But a friend of the Pittsburgh club noted that Bierbauer's name was missing, and as Louis was a much-sought player the friend told Horace Phillips, manager of the Pittsburgh club. Phillips proceeded to Erie, Pa., where Louis passed the winter months at his home. His trap was successful.

Bierbauer was willing to listen, a tempting offer was made, and when Phillips returned he brought with him the player's signed contract for the following season. The procedure was perfectly regular, under the rules, and Bierbauer played in Pittsburgh for many years, but the manner of his capture caused no end of talk in the baseball world, and one Philadelphia writer referred to the affair as an act of "piracy" on the baseball seas. The Pittsburghers were promptly named the "Pirates," and the title has stuck.

CLAUDE ROSSMAN WINS GAME

Spurred on by "Kidding" Remarks of Fans He Scores Two Runs With Three-Base Hit.

Claude Rossman, once a Nap, once a Tiger and now a Miller in the American association, won a game the other day for Minneapolis in the American association.

Claude won it in the third inning of a contest with Cleveland and the winning was sweet because—

"Hey, you big boob, back to the Old Soldiers' home."

"Whenja see Elmer Flick last?"

"You're a good hitter back in 1906," were only a part—a very small part—of the remarks flung at him when he went to the plate to hit against Pitcher Brenton.

Claude Rossman of Minneapolis Millers.

One run had been scored, two men were out and Burns and Altizer were on the bases. Claude clutched his bat a trifle tighter when he heard "old friends" riding him, and he smashed the second pitch to deep left.

Cleveland could not score enough runs to offset this lead.

Johnson Keeps in Condition.

You don't hear much about George Murphy Johnson, the handsome Indian buck, since he had his last inning in court, says the Kansas City Star, but the Winniebaggo brave is out there every day working out with the ball club and shooting the old pill up to the batters in practice. And he's aching to get in a regular ball game. Maybe he'll get a chance some of these days as the kind court has reversed the decision of the lower court.

Almost a Record.

An exhibition of high dropping of base balls was arranged for San Francisco recently, in which an aviator was to drop the balls from a distance of 1,000 feet. The only thing to mar the occasion was that the man in the aeroplane could not get the range of the park and he failed to drop a ball inside, where Harry Meek and Charley Cech were waiting to make the catches.

Filler Needed.

The old story about Ty Cobb being traded or given away to the Highlanders has been revived again by some eastern scribe who was hard pressed for a filler.

Vie Sailer Improving.

Vic Sailer is clouting the ball better than he ever did in his life. He is out to make a home-run record for the season.

Live Without Water.

Dr. R. E. Drake-Brockman tells in the Field of having found gazelles on the island of Saad-ud-Din that live without drinking. There is no fresh water at all on this island, which is just off the coast of Somaliland, and has an annual rainfall of less than two and three-fourths inches.

AMERICAN AMBASSADORS IN EUROPEAN WAR ZONE.

Left to Right—Ambassador Walter Page (England); Ambassador James Gerard (Germany); and Ambassador Myron T. Herrick (France).

American ambassadors abroad find themselves very busy men these days. Not only are they confronted with the problem of getting America's travelers back to the United States without endangering their lives but they have also been requested to watch over the embassies of the warring nations in each others capitals.

KEEPING SMALL FLOCK

GOOD REVENUE FROM POULTRY ON VILLAGE LOT.

Safe to Say That Any One With Ordinary Sense and Industry Can Make Money by Raising Chickens—Feed Only the Best.

(By KATE ST. MAUR. Copyright, 1914.)

With 150 square feet of ground suitable for poultry, and devoting half an hour every night and morning, with an extra two or three hours on Saturday, you should be able to add two or three hundred dollars to your income. My authority for this is my knowledge of a bank clerk whose home is beyond the city limits, who made $800 last year from a flock of 100 hens, and of a postmistress who made $462, though neither of them gave more than a few hours a week to poultry, so it seems safe to say that any one with ordinary common sense and industry can make three or four hundred dollars. Any sort of old hens and coops won't do. A person who starts with very little capital will find it advisable to buy three good birds rather than twenty poor ones and make a clean, new house, even if it's only 3 by 6 feet, rather than patch up some vermin infested shanty. This is the time to lay the foundation of winter eggs and next year's profits, so if you have a flock of any of the popular breeds hatch every one. But, if your flock consists of mongrels, feed well and get all the eggs you can, sell them for table use and with the proceeds buy eggs from some reliable dealer, or, what is better, sell a few old birds and buy a small incubator. There is a good little metal machine costing six dollars which holds 50 eggs. Fireless brooders from the same firm cost the same.

Feed Only the Best.

Chicks should have nothing to eat for 48 hours after leaving the shell. The reason is the yolk is absorbed immediately before a chick breaks through the shell and must be allowed time to digest and pass through the bowels before any foreign substance is introduced or indigestion and diarrhea will result.

Commercial chick feed is the best feed, being a mixture of seeds and finely broken corn, specially put up for chicks. Once a day give a little pot cheese or stale bread soaked in milk and squeezed dry. When confined to brooders vegetable material must be added, such as lettuce leaves or tops of green onions chopped fine. Keep clean water, ground charcoal and fine grit always before them and remember, with really good birds, your profits come in the spring from selling eggs for hatching or for day old chicks. Indeed, you should not begrudge the utmost thought and care to your poultry in the growing stage, for it is then you are building the foundation for a profitable poultry plant.

Improper Feeding Is Bad.

It is much easier to run a flock of poultry down than to build it up, and nothing will run down a flock of chickens quicker than improper feeding.

The Python's Gorge.

A specimen of python reticulata about twenty-five feet in length swallowed a swan weighing eighteen pounds and two days later a roebuck of sixty-seven pounds. Another swallowed within two days two roebucks of twenty-eight and thirty-nine pounds and soon thereafter a chamois of seventy-one pounds. In two and a half hours only the hind quarters of the limbs of the prey were visible. When a flashlight photograph was suddenly taken the python disgorged its booty in the space of half a minute.—Journal of the Royal Microscopical Society.

Live Without Water.

Dr. R. E. Drake-Brockman tells in the Field of having found gazelles on the island of Saad-ud-Din that live without drinking. There is no fresh water at all on this island, which is just off the coast of Somaliland, and has an annual rainfall of less than two and three-fourths inches.

GIRL RULER'S RICH LITTLE DUCHY INVADDED BY GERMANS.

London, August 5.—The protests of the Grand Duchess Marie, the ruler of the Duchy of Luxembourg, to England and France against the violation of her territory by the Germans despite a treaty guaranteeing the neutrality of Luxembourg has been met by the German Imperial Chancellor with an offer of full indemnity. The German Chancellor says the measures taken by Germany did not constitute a hostile act against the Grand Duchy. The Grand Duchess Marie is the youngest sovereign in Europe. She reigns over a territory about 1,000 miles square which forms one of Europe's richest small states.

Then, as an afterthought, he added: "An' it's no' much o' a comb onywey. A've tried it mase!"—Glasgow News.

Taking Medicine in the Dark.

Never take medicine in the dark. This is the advice in an interesting little booklet I found in a drug store. It is timely and wholesome and has a wide application. The people of this country are too fond of taking medicine in the dark. They are so credulous and so eager to make money that they are constantly the victims of their own folly. A man has made a large fortune during the past fifteen years by writing letters from Spain to persons in this country telling the latter about fortunes left them by strangers on certain conditions. These conditions always involve the payment of money before the fortune can be secured. It is amazing how many persons who ought to know better have given up from $500 to $10,000 to an absolute stranger in the belief that with this amount the latter stood ready to turn over $20,000 to $100,000 to his victims.—Leslie's.

A Haughty Personage.

Professors in Germany are important personages and know it, but few probably ever reach the pinnacle of haughtiness attained by the one of whom this anecdote is narrated. He was one of the greatest men in the faculty at Heidelberg. One day the authorities of that city ordered that the street in front of the professor's house should be paved.

"If you don't stop that noise," remarked the professor to the pavers, "I shall give up my position as a member of the Heidelberg faculty."

The pavers stopped work at once. The municipal authorities sent around to inquire respectfully of the professor when they might pave the street.

"When I take my vacation," he replied. Then and only then was the street paved.

RICH AMERICANS BUY A STEAMER

Travelers Who Have Reached London
Tell of Their Sufferings at the Hands of Rapacious Frenchmen.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, August 5.—The panic among the thousands of Americans stranded in London was partially relieved today when it was announced that a few of the wealthy men caught here with their countrymen by the outbreak of war would purchase the steamer Viking, 8,500 tons, and having cabin accommodations for 400 passengers. The Viking will sail from Liverpool for New York on Monday, August 10. The committee invited Americans in distress to file applications for bookings at their headquarters at the Savoy hotel.

William C. Breen, counsel for the Merchants' Association of New York, has arrived here from Paris after adventures in escaping from the continent which read like the most improbable fiction. He expressed doubt of the ability of any more Americans to get away from the continent now plunged into war. The last incident before the boat sailed from Boulogne was typical of everything that happened along the route.

"The Frenchmen all knew how desperate we are to get home," he explained. "They stopped at nothing to make profits out of our mad rush. At Boulogne they withheld the labels which it is necessary to have pasted on luggage to get through. The customs officers sold them at any price they could get. I paid $10 for one to discover that some other French porter was holding on to the paste on each label. I beat out this gauge by wiping off paste from trunks already labelled until I accumulated enough on my fingers to paste on my two labels myself."

John Knox Stevens of New York arrived in the morning on the Minnawaska and went immediately to Charing Cross station, where he found a train leaving for Paris at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. When he left New York, Stevens intended spending a month or two with his wife and sister-in-law in a suburb of Paris, where he expected to become a father, but wireless messages received aboard ship caused him to change his plans so as to do everything in his power to get his wife out of the war zone before the birth of the child. At the American embassy he told Secretary Bell of his situation and got an emergency passport in short order. He rushed to the French embassy, where he got the passport vized and just managed to catch the train. He plans to get his wife and sister-in-law back to London, and by ship to New York, if possible.

Mrs. G. J. Waters of New York, whose daughter married a French count, and who came to London on the last trip of the Mauretania, to visit her daughter after a four years' separation, started for Paris last Friday. An hour after she reached Paris, she learned that the ship was to be used for the frontiers, and that she would be placed in a nearby fortress. Mrs. Waters, left alone, began the trip back to London.

"Paris was in an uproar," she said. "The streets were packed with fleeing mobs, the railway station was a madhouse jammed to suffocation by fighting human animals struggling to board the train. In the confusion somebody in that surging mob stole my pocketbook and handbag containing all my money and jewels. Before I could find my luggage I was literally hurled into the train and had to leave it behind. Flung into a dirty compartment with 20 others, I suffered indescribable tortures in the foul air and heat. The train was stopped twice, and everybody was dragged out by soldiers seeking for spies. One man said to be deserting was taken away to be shot. At Dieppe the boat was waiting, already overcrowded, but we were all packed aboard until the boat was nearly ready to capsize. We had no money to buy food and no chance to rest, as every inch of deck was occupied by snoring, cursing men."

Mrs. Waters is now at the Berkeley hotel. Byron Chandler, husband of Grace La Rue, was another victim who just escaped being stranded in France. "I went to Deauville on Saturday," he said, "and intended to stay several weeks. I had just unpacked my trunks when the Hotel Royal was ordered closed by the authorities. The guests were hustled out, their baggage piled in the court yard, and nobody had even time to get the clothes left behind in their rooms. At the same time the servants and porters left town to join the army and 200 guests were left flat. All of us finally jammed into a little boat, licensed to carry 80 persons, and were taken to Havre. Our baggage is still at Dieppe, because there was no room for it aboard. The hotel let me go without paying my bill, but I have to take English gold. At Havre, another big crowd of refugees was waiting. Many carried underclothing and all sorts of things in their arms."

"The train had been held up four miles outside Havre and the passengers ordered to open their trunks and take such things as they could carry and leave the rest. The train went no further. All had to walk to the city, who is spending some time in Charles Daley's summer residence in this place, was held up and robbed by an Italian on the cross road from East Branch to West Branch, which crosses near Oscar Satterlee's. The holdup occurred on Sunday afternoon while the young man was returning from East Branch, where he had been spending a few days with friends. He was held fast by the Italian until he relieved him of twenty cents, some letters and a handkerchief. The young man was kicked happened again by the Italian and when he released himself he ran as fast as he could. Finland was warned to keep out of the North sea or he might get hurt. It was hinted that a big naval battle was expected at any hour. Later at Dover a harbor boat came out and ordered the Finland to anchor and discharge all cabin passengers, who were sent to London by the naval authorities. Still later the Finland was ordered back to Southampton with the steering passengers to await further orders.

The Great Eastern Railway Company has issued a notice stating that the company would accept and cash express companies' checks, travelers' checks and similar paper all day Thursday but that no more than $50 would be given to any individual.

The American citizens' committee is doing big work to provide temporary relief for the men and women who are actually suffering for want of proper food and shelter, to obtain sufficient steamship accommodations to get them all home as speedily as possible. Eighty thousand other Americans are known to be trying to get out of the continent to make their way to London. Worse still, it is known that there are 50,000 other Americans scattered from Norway to Greece, who are so far away from any chance of transportation that their plight must be absolutely desperate.

These figures are based on the known fact that 100,000 Americans crossed the ocean this summer and that only 20,000 returned before the outbreak of hostilities between Austria and Serbia. Ten thousand Americans are stranded in London, most of them without cash or clothes beyond what is on their backs, they having left their luggage behind them on the continent, from which they have fled precipitately.

TENER BELIEVES BASEBALL WAR HURTS GAME.

Gov. John Tener. New York, August 5.—Expressing the belief that the majority of the fans of the country are tired of baseball wars, Gov. Tener, president of the American League, said he believes the interests of the players as well as the managers would be best served by calling a halt. The baseball parks have been neglected this year, Tener says, not so much because fans are tired of the national game as because they prefer peace. Quit the mud-slinging, says Tener, and you'll get the business.

LEIBHARDT.

Leibhardt, Aug. 5.—Miss Sylvia Quick and sister, Mrs. Gertrude Rose, of Amsterdam are spending their vacation at the home of their mother, Mrs. J. J. Quick. Miss Georgia Hornbeck spent Monday in Kingston. Miss Emily Quick who has been with Mrs. Eva Warren for two weeks, has returned home. Miss Hilda Myers of Rochester has been engaged to teach our district school for the coming year. Miss Myers comes well recommended and we hope for a very successful school year.

Services were well attended on Sunday afternoon and the Rev. Mr. Voight preached an interesting sermon. The M. E. Sunday school will hold their annual picnic and party on the school house lawn Saturday afternoon and evening, September 5. Muller's orchestra from Kingston has been engaged to furnish music for the afternoon and evening. All kinds of refreshments will be for sale. Everybody invited to come and have a good time.

Mrs. J. Harris of New York is spending four weeks at Ivy Cottage. Sunday school at 3 o'clock every Sunday afternoon at the M. E. Church.

Mrs. Mary Markle and daughter, Edna, of Mettaphonts attended services at this place on Sunday afternoon. A number from Leibhardt will attend the Ellenville fair next week. Miss Georgia Hornbeck was a guest of her friend, Mrs. L. E. Lawrence, for supper Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Quick of Tongore and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lounsbury of Mombacrus were guests of Mrs. J. J. Quick Sunday.

BRANCH.

Branch, August 5.—A young man perhaps sixteen years of age from the city who is spending some time in Charles Daley's summer residence in this place, was held up and robbed by an Italian on the cross road from East Branch to West Branch, which crosses near Oscar Satterlee's. The holdup occurred on Sunday afternoon while the young man was returning from East Branch, where he had been spending a few days with friends. He was held fast by the Italian until he relieved him of twenty cents, some letters and a handkerchief. The young man was kicked happened again by the Italian and when he released himself he ran as fast as he could. Finland was warned to keep out of the North sea or he might get hurt. It was hinted that a big naval battle was expected at any hour. Later at Dover a harbor boat came out and ordered the Finland to anchor and discharge all cabin passengers, who were sent to London by the naval passed through this place on Wednesday. He was later seen in Claryville, and he evidently is the same one who help up and robbed the young man on the lonesome road on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Marvin Van Demark, who underwent an operation at the Kingston City Hospital three weeks ago, is able to leave the hospital and is now stopping at George Wager's in Kingston.

Kathryn Satterlee spent Sunday at Oscar Satterlee's. Jack Hornbeck was quite seriously injured while drawing hay for Lorenzo Brackman on Sunday. Mrs. Wilbur Barkman took her two sons, Paul and Ralph, to Graceland on Saturday and had them vaccinated.

William Dickson is helping Sheriff Satterlee in haying.

Gertrude Brooks, the housekeeper at Winnisook, who has been ill, is able to resume her duties again.

Harry Meeker and family of New York are now occupying their cabin at Winnisook for the first season.

Mrs. Marvin Van Demark has been hauling lumber to Shandaken.

E. B. Hughes is spending a few days out of town.

Everybody is busy with haying and it seems to be a very good crop.

Avis Van is spending some time out of town.

Claude Taylor of Claryville was a caller at Oscar Satterlee's on Sunday.

Manley Murray and Harry Cole are wearing deputy sheriff's badges. Let's hope they will get busy and capture the Italian who has been causing so much annoyance in this place during the past few days.

Charles S. Daley, who has been spending a few days in New York city, has returned to his residence in this place.

WEST PARK.

West Park, Aug. 5.—The Peripatetic Philosopher in his rounds last Saturday, came to the Ascension Church and in the park north of this structure witnessed the gayest, happiest throng of people it has been his fortune to see for many a day. The church was giving its annual lawn fete and not only all the parishioners, but all the neighborhood were invited. There was James Ackert, Sr., of 88 years old, and there were babies of hardly 88 days, and all sorts and sizes of children and adults besides, so that by actual count there were over 200 present.

The entertainment was of a varied and pleasing character. A looking backward dance by four couples, two delightful comedies, two most acceptable solos, a piano and violin duet, several recitations and an orchestra consisting of cornet, violin and piano, ice cream and cake served the inner man, and was perhaps not the least pleasing part of the afternoon's entertainment. The weather was all that could be desired and the philosopher could not help feeling very thankful for the happiness of so many.

All persons are now looking forward to the historical pageant which is to take place on Saturday, August 15, on the Gordon field, a short distance from the station. Miss Hilda Smith, the manager, has bestowed much time and labor, mental and otherwise, upon this production and has been ably seconded by the officers and other members of the Neighborhood Association, with propitious weather, the pageant will be a very pleasing entertainment.

Mrs. J. J. Smith and Miss Helen Smith have gone to New York for a few days. Mrs. Hoort has also gone to the metropolis. Miss Maud Earnest left West Park on Tuesday morning after a six weeks' visit at the Ascension rectory. She returns to her duties at the Hatmaker Private Hospital at Penn Yan.

Miss Margaret DeVoe of Esopus is spending a few days with Miss Hilda Smith at "Heartsease."

Miss Schwartz of Poughkeepsie has been visiting her friend, Miss Gretchen Schickel.

Mr. Reynolds, who cut his arm a few days ago is recovering.

Mrs. Carrie Gindart returned on Saturday from a brief visit in New York.

Wallace Decker is visiting his grandfather near New Paltz.

The philosopher has kept his eyes and ears open but has ceased his wanderings for a few days.

FLATBUSH.

Flatbush, Aug. 5.—Miss Mary Terwilliger of Kingston is the guest of Mrs. William Kelfer.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, the festival held on the church lawn grounds last Wednesday evening, was quite a success.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Buckley of Kingston were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Myer on Sunday.

Mrs. Howard Burhans is spending some time with the Rev. and Mrs. George Dangremont at New Hurley.

Mrs. Davies and children of New York are stopping at Mrs. Fred Burhans's.

Miss Anna Snyder of Katrine and Miss Osterhout of Kingston were the guests of Mrs. Harry Davis last week.

Mrs. Nathan Griffin and Miss Katherine Griffin of Kingston visited at the home of Elliot Griffin last week.

Miss Juanita Burhans has been spending some time with her grandfather, Charles Burhans.

Several of our ladies and girls enjoyed a picnic by the river last week. All report a fine time.

Mrs. George Whitehead of Kingston has been the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Swart.

Mrs. Markle of Albany is visiting at the home of Erastus Osterhout.

Accident to Highland Clergyman.

The Rev. George Davis, pastor of the Highland M. E. Church, sustained a painful accident in Poughkeepsie on Monday. He was walking along the street near the dock when his foot caught in a piece of iron sheeting and he was thrown to the ground. Mr. Davis received a deep gash in his forehead and also broke one rib.

Had Roads.

You may avoid a bad road by getting first hand information from the Tourist Service Bureau, operated by Smith Brothers' restaurant, Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Box lunches prepared for those who are in a hurry.—Advertisement.

HOW PIRATES GOT NICKNAME

Cognomen Given Pittsburgh Team Because of Kidnaping of Louis Bierbauer, Star Player.

The Pittsburgh team, commonly called the Pirates, got that name as the result of the kidnaping of Louis Bierbauer, a star second baseman, from the Athletics way back in 1883 or 1889. At that time there was a working agreement between the National league and the American association by which neither organization was permitted to reserve more than fifteen players at the close of the season.

The owners of the Athletics, in the American association, desired to keep sixteen of their men, but as only fifteen could be legally reserved, the only way open was to leave one name off the list and take a chance on no other club picking up the player. Accordingly, the Athletic management failed to name Bierbauer in its reserve list, hoping the omission would be overlooked. But a friend of the Pittsburgh club noted that Bierbauer's name was missing, and as Louis was a much-sought player the friend told Horace Phillips, manager of the Pittsburgh club. Phillips proceeded to Erie, Pa., where Louis passed the winter months at his home. His trap was successful.

Bierbauer was willing to listen, a tempting offer was made, and when Phillips returned he brought with him the player's signed contract for the following season. The procedure was perfectly regular, under the rules, and Bierbauer played in Pittsburgh for many years, but the manner of his capture caused no end of talk in the baseball world, and one Philadelphia writer referred to the affair as an act of "piracy" on the baseball seas. The Pittsburghers were promptly named the "Pirates," and the title has stuck.

CLAUDE ROSSMAN WINS GAME

Spurred on by "Kidding" Remarks of Fans He Scores Two Runs With Three-Base Hit.

Claude Rossman, once a Nap, once a Tiger and now a Miller in the American association, won a game the other day for Minneapolis in the American association.

Claude won it in the third inning of a contest with Cleveland and the winning was sweet because—

"Hey, you big boob, back to the Old Soldiers' home."

"Whenja see Elmer Flick last?"

"You as a good hitter back in 1906," were only a part—a very small part—of the remarks flung at him when he went to the plate to hit against Pitcher Brenton.

Claude Rossman of Minneapolis Millers.

One run had been scored, two men were out and Burns and Altizer were on the bases. Claude clutched his bat a trifle tighter when he heard "old friends" riding him, and he smashed the second pitch to deep left.

Cleveland could not score enough runs to offset this lead.

Johnson Keeps in Condition.

You don't hear much about George Murphy Johnson, the handsome Indian buck, since he had his last inning in court, says the Kansas City Star, but the Winnebago brave is out there every day working out with the ball club and shooting the old pill up to the batters in practice. And he's aching to get in a regular ball game. Maybe he'll get a chance some of these days as the kind court has reversed the decision of the lower court.

Almost a Record.

An exhibition of high dropping of base balls was arranged for San Francisco recently, in which an aviator was to drop the balls from a distance of 1,000 feet. The only thing to mar the occasion was that the man in the aeroplane could not get the range of the park and he failed to drop a ball inside, where Harry Meek and Charley Coch were waiting to make the catches.

Filler Needed.

The old story about Ty Cobb being traded or given away to the Highlanders has been revived again by some eastern scribe who was hard pressed for a filler.

Vie Sailer Improving.

Vie Sailer is clouting the ball better than he ever did in his life. He is out to make a home-run record for the season.

American ambassadors abroad find themselves very busy men these days. Not only are they confronted with the problem of getting American travelers back to the United States without endangering their lives but they have also been requested to watch over the embassies of the warring nations in each others capitals.

KEEPING SMALL FLOCK

GOOD REVENUE FROM POULTRY ON VILLAGE LOT.

Safe to Say That Any One With Ordinary Sense and Industry Can Make Money by Raising Chickens—Feed Only the Best.

(By KATE ST. MAUR. Copyright, 1914.)

With 150 square feet of ground suitable for poultry, and devoting half an hour every night and morning, with an extra two or three hours on Saturday, you should be able to add two or three hundred dollars to your income. My authority for this is my knowledge of a bank clerk whose home is beyond the city limits, who made $800 last year from a flock of 100 hens, and of a postmistress who made $462, though neither of them gave more than a few hours a week to poultry, so it seems safe to say that any one with ordinary common sense and industry can make three or four hundred dollars. Any sort of old hens and coops won't do. A person who starts with very little capital will find it advisable to buy three good birds rather than twenty poor ones and make a clean, new house, even if it's only 3 by 6 feet, rather than patch up some vermin infested shanty. This is the time to lay the foundation of winter eggs and next year's profits, so if you have a flock of any of the popular breeds hatch every one. But, if your flock consists of mongrels, feed well and get all the eggs you can, sell them for table use and with the proceeds buy eggs from some reliable dealer, or what is better, sell a few old birds and buy a small incubator. There is a good little metal machine costing six dollars which holds 50 eggs. Fearless brooders from the same firm cost the same.

Feed Only the Best.

Chicks should have nothing to eat for 48 hours after leaving the shell. The reason is the yolk is absorbed immediately before a chick breaks through the shell and must be allowed time to digest and pass through the bowels before any foreign substance is introduced or indigestion and diarrhea will result.

Commercial chick feed is the best feed, being a mixture of seeds and finely broken corn, specially put up for chicks. Once a day give a little pot cheese or stale bread soaked in milk and squeezed dry. When confined to brooders vegetable material must be added, such as lettuce leaves or tops of green onions chopped fine. Keep clean water, ground charcoal and fine grit always before them and remember, with really good birds, your profits come in the spring from selling eggs for hatching or for day old chicks. Indeed, you should not begrudge the utmost thought and care to your poultry in the growing stage, for it is then you are building the foundation for a profitable poultry plant.

Improper Feeding is Bad.

It is much easier to run a flock of poultry down than to build it up, and nothing will run down a flock of chickens quicker than improper feeding. A specimen of pygmy reticulated about twenty-five feet in length swallowed a swan weighing eighteen pounds and two days later a roebuck of sixty-seven pounds. Another swallowed within two days two roebucks of twenty-eight and thirty-nine pounds and soon thereafter a chamois of seventy-one pounds. In two and a half hours only the hind quarters of the limbs of the prey were visible. When a flashlight photograph was suddenly taken the python disgorged its booty in the space of half a minute.—Journal of the Royal Microscopical Society.

GIRL RULER'S RICH LITTLE DUCHY INVADED BY GERMANS.

London, August 5.—The protests of the Grand Duchess Marie, the ruler of the Duchy of Luxembourg, to England and France against the violation of her territory by the Germans despite a treaty guaranteeing the neutrality of Luxembourg has been met by the German Imperial Chancellor with an offer of full indemnity. The German Chancellor says the measures taken by Germany did not constitute a hostile act against the Grand Duchy. The Grand Duchess Marie is the youngest sovereign in Europe. She reigns over a territory about 1,000 miles square which forms one of Europe's richest small states.

Ended the Boa Constrictor.

"All my reading life," says Dr. Frank Baldwin, the Philippines explorer, "I have regarded the boa constrictor with horror and aversion. When I got into the jungle my great desire was to meet a large boa in order that I might do him some very real harm. When I did find one my sentiments were those of pity for the snake. He was stretched across the path, and when the natives saw him they pounced upon him with yells of delight. On the other hand, he seemed dazed."

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

Charles A. Marx, also known as Charles A. Marks, who lived alone as a man of mystery at Flatbush, and who died at the Benedictine Sanitarium Sunday, as told in The Freeman Monday night, was not without relatives. He left one nephew and two nieces surviving, all of whom live at New Haven, Conn. To the nephew, George W. Marx, and one niece, Minnie Mead, Surrogate Gill has issued letters of administration on their uncle's estate, the value of which is $1,500 personal property. The other niece is Martha Marx. Judge N. Frank O'Reilly appeared for the administrators.

Letters of administration on the estate of Thaddeus C. Reed of the town of Marlborough were issued to George W. Reed, his son and Alice Davis. The value of the estate is $1,200 real estate and $1,100 personal property. Virgil B. Van Wageningen appeared for the administrators.

In the estate of Sarah S. Snyder of the town of Saugerties, a petition for a judicial settlement was filed by Robert A. Snyder, the administrator, and a citation was issued. Byron L. Davis appeared for the administrator.

In the estate of Cornelia Winne of Woodstock, a petition for a judicial settlement was filed by Sarah Elwyn, the administratrix, and a citation was issued returnable September 28. Morschauser, Mack & Mulvey of Poughkeepsie appeared for the administratrix.

DEER ATE ASTERS.

No, Not Astors, Although it Happened in Rhinebeck.

Albany, Aug. 5.—After having explained to the state board of claims that he was a friend of all animals and sympathized with them in their gastronomic needs, a Rhinebeck florist, adds that he objects to having his beds of asters consumed by deer and that his obligations to his family rise above his love for wild creatures, therefore he thinks the state should recompense him for having suffered to the extent of $420. In a letter to the board of claims and in a duplicate to the conservation commission, the Rhinebeck florist relates the details of his case, raising seven thousand asters. So vivid is his description that one can see his back bending over the plants as he pours water upon them through the medium of a watering pot.

Scene two, as depicted by the facile pen of the florist, is slightly more dramatic. It describes how there emerged from the forest a tall and graceful deer, somewhat thin in the flank and with a penchant for the succulent aster. Dwelling upon the hunger of the doe, the florist touches upon the voraciousness of the animals and how they ruthlessly munched at the asters until instinct warned them that deer collie might ensue unless they desisted.

To make his declaration more emphatic, the florist says in his letter: "A number of my neighbors have saw them at it." His reference of course relates to the deer as they nonchalantly consumed his treasured asters.

Being an honest man, the Rhinebeck florist admits that he was filled with wrath when he came upon the deer cropping his asters. He says he knew that the game law forbids the killing of deer in the closed season, yet he cannot understand why a human being should be regarded with less compassion by the state than an animal. With the state crying out, "forbear spare that deer," and his heart exclaiming "my poor asters," he sat right down and demanded $420 from the state, hoping thereby that the deer and he might both live.

EUREKA.

Eureka, Aug. 5.—When going after the cows Monday evening Mrs. Mahlon Donivan shot and killed a large woodchuck with her 22 single shot rifle. It was her first experience in woodchuck hunting but one shot brought him to the ground.

Orin Fuller and George Dierfelder are cutting the hay on the Davis Osterhout place, now owned by Orin Fuller.

Sidney Benson called on friends here Sunday morning. Charles TerBush and Willis Ryan have been repairing Granville Brown's new canopy top wagon as he had an upset and runaway last week.

Ezra Krom and Harvey Sawyer of Ulster Heights spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Donivan.

There is a large number of fresh air children boarding in this vicinity and neighboring towns. They expect to stay two weeks.

Are You Eating Squabs Regularly?

You ought to. They are delicious. Squabs are young pigeons only four weeks old. Perhaps you have bought in the markets old pigeons, often offered as squabs. They are comparatively tough and stringy. The genuine squabs, such as we sell, are right out of the nest, fat, plump, juicy, weighing from fourteen ounces to a pound apiece. They are fully feathered. Same as old birds. Squabs are highly esteemed as an article of food because the juice of the squab (which is pure liquid protoplasm) is the most nourishing and vitalizing flesh food. In fact there is no bird or fowl food that can equal the squab for condensed nourishment. We can supply squabs at any time on receipt of your order. Prices 75 cents per pair, by parcel post 15 cents extra.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

Charles A. Marx, also known as Charles A. Marks, who lived alone as a man of mystery at Flatbush, and who died at the Benedictine Sanitarium Sunday, as told in The Freeman Monday night, was not without relatives. He left one nephew and two nieces surviving, all of whom live at New Haven, Conn. To the nephew, George W. Marx, and one niece, Minnie Mead, Surrogate Gill has issued letters of administration on their uncle's estate, the value of which is $1,500 personal property. The other niece is Martha Marx. Judge N. Frank O'Reilly appeared for the administrators.

Letters of administration on the estate of Thaddeus C. Reed of the town of Marlborough were issued to George W. Reed, his son and Alice Davis. The value of the estate is $1,200 real estate and $1,100 personal property. Virgil B. Van Wageningen appeared for the administrators.

In the estate of Sarah S. Snyder of the town of Saugerties, a petition for a judicial settlement was filed by Robert A. Snyder, the administrator, and a citation was issued. Byron L. Davis appeared for the administrator.

In the estate of Cornelia Winne of Woodstock, a petition for a judicial settlement was filed by Sarah Elwyn, the administratrix, and a citation was issued returnable September 28. Morschauser, Mack & Mulvey of Poughkeepsie appeared for the administratrix.

DEER ATE ASTERS.

No, Not Astors, Although It Happened in Rhinebeck.

Albany, Aug. 5.—After having explained to the state board of claims that he was a friend of all animals and sympathized with them in their gastronomic needs, a Rhinebeck florist, adds that he objects to having his beds of asters consumed by deer and that his obligations to his family rise above his love for wild creatures, therefore he thinks the state should recompense him for having suffered to the extent of $420.

In a letter to the board of claims and in a duplicate to the conservation commission, the Rhinebeck florist relates the details of his care in raising seven thousand asters. So vivid is his description that one can see his back bending over the plants as he pours water upon them through the medium of a watering pot.

Scene two, as depicted by the facile pen of the florist, is slightly more dramatic. It describes how there emerged from the forest a tall and graceful deer, somewhat thin in the flank and with a penchant for the succulent aster. Dwelling upon the hunger of the doe, the florist touches upon the voraciousness of the animals and how they ruthlessly trampled the asters until instinct warned them that deer collie might ensue unless they desisted.

To make his declaration more emphatic, the florist says in his letter: "A number of my neighbors have saw them at it." His reference of course relates to the deer as they nonchalantly consumed his treasured asters.

Being an honest man, the Rhinebeck florist admits that he was filled with wrath when he came upon the deer cropping his asters. He says he knew that the same law forbids the killing of deer in the closed season, yet he cannot understand why a human being should be regarded with less compassion by the state than an animal. With the state crying out, "florist spare that deer," and his heart exclaiming "my poor asters," he sat right down and demanded $420 from the state, hoping thereby that the deer and he might both live.

NAVAL BATTLE OR THUNDER STORM?

Probably the latter, as the Admiralty denies all knowledge of heavy firing reported heard on the North Sea.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Aug. 5.—Numerous reports of a naval battle in the North Sea were flashed to London today from points on the eastern coast, but the admiralty announced this afternoon that it had received no official reports of a sea conflict. Officials there attributed a despatch from Margate saying that heavy cannonading had been heard on the North Sea to the fact that a terrible thunder storm was raging off Margate today and the sound of the thunderclaps was mistaken for the sound of guns.

The Central News Agency sent out a report that Premier Asquith had received information regarding a sea battle stating that two German battleships had been sunk or captured and a third escaped.

This report was officially denied at the admiralty.

WOODSTOCK.

Woodstock, Aug. 5.—The trustees of the school district have called for bids for laying a walk from the road to the school house, and for painting the school house.

No teachers have been hired for either department in the Woodstock school.

Mr. Earnes has workmen building a wall at the entrance of his grounds near the studio. The walls are built of masonry and are semi circular in form.

Mr. Cochran has on exhibition in the studio from Aug. 3rd to Aug. 7th thirty-eight paintings valued from $50 to $500. Among this collection are many magnificent pictures.

The best grade of flour is now selling at wholesale at $6.50 a barrel. Swiss cheese has also jumped 40 per cent in price, while all spices have been jumped from 3 to 5 cents per pound. The local wholesale meat market still remains about the same with beef selling at 15 cents a pound. There is no cheap meat in the market at the present time and while there is a scarcity of beef yet the local wholesale dealers are receiving enough beef to supply the local market.

JAPAN MAY GET IN THE WAR

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Tokyo, Aug. 5.—The Japanese fleet was today ordered to be ready to put to sea. A German warship has been sighted in Tsushima Straits watching the vessels of the Russian volunteer fleet.

The foreign office issued the following statement tonight:

"The Imperial government entertains the deepest anxiety regarding the political and economic situation arising from the latest developments in European politics. It hopes peace will be quickly restored and the war not extended and Japan be able to maintain an attitude of strict neutrality."

"It is necessary, however, that the closest attention be paid to future developments. In the event that Great Britain becomes involved the terms of the Japanese alliance will be affected and Japan will take the necessary measures to discharge her obligations under the treaty."

As there is a difference of 12 hours between London and Tokyo time, the news that Great Britain and Germany were at war was not received when the statement was issued.

Premier Okuma said this evening that under no circumstances would Japan send a fleet to Europe. This country is prepared, however, to protect British colonies in the Far East. He expressed deep regret that mediation had not been effected and declared the European conflict portended the destruction of western civilization.

He added that he hoped the United States would be able to hasten the end of hostilities, an effort in which Japan would have liked to help if she had not been an ally of any of the parties in the conflict.

OFFICIAL WEIGHTS HAVE REAPPEARED

City Hall Mystery That Puzzles Everyone—Weights and Measures Were Not There and Now They Are There.

The mysterious appearance of a set of solid brass weights and measures at the city hall one day recently has considerably puzzled everyone around the building.

Some time ago Kingston was reported on the state superintendent of weights and measures' list as being one of the few cities of the state where inspection of weights and measures was not being made, and when the matter was called to the attention of Mayor Canfield he immediately took the matter up. The common council at recent meeting authorized the purchase of weights and measures by City Sealer M. Holmes Canfield, who had made a thorough search of the city hall and had been unable to find any weights and measures such as cities and counties provide for their sealers. The only weights and measures turned over to City Sealer Canfield were a brass yard-stick and a set of avoirdupois weights from half a pound to the thirty-second of an ounce.

After securing from various dealers and manufacturers their catalogues of weights and measures, City Sealer Canfield selected sets of all weights and measures which would be required, and prepared his orders for them. The sets he selected were in nickel, which are much less expensive than brass, and the total amount to be ordered was about $100. The orders were not mailed the same day they were written but by an oversight were left by Mr. Canfield at his home.

When he appeared at the city hall the following morning Mr. Canfield was informed by the janitor that a full set of brass weights and measures had been found by him that morning in one of the rooms on the third floor of the building. There were all varieties of weights and measures, all in first class condition, and far superior to the sets which Mr. Canfield had intended to order.

Where the brass weights and measures came from has not been ascertained. The room where they were found has been cleaned several times and the janitor passes through it daily. When Mayor Canfield was looking for the missing civil service records he also made a thorough search of the room in question, and at that time they were not there. The janitor found them on the floor near the door.

The order for the new weights and measures were not mailed.

BURGLARY ON O'REILLY STREET

The residence of Mrs. Shultis, 285 West O'Reilly street, was burglarized some time Monday night, but the burglary was not discovered until Tuesday evening when it was reported to the police who made an investigation and found that the house had been ransacked by the intruders. As the family are at Greenkill Park for the summer it was impossible to learn if anything had been taken. It is understood that Mrs. Shultis had taken all her valuable jewelry and silverware with her when she locked the house up for the summer. The burglary was first brought to light when a young boy found one of the windows of the house broken open and he notified the police. This morning Sergeant Murray made an investigation in a search for clues.

2,000 RESERVISTS SAIL FOR FRANCE

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Aug. 5.—To the music of the Marseillaise and shouts of "On to Berlin" the French liner La Lorraine sailed for France today carrying 2,000 reservists who have gone to fight the Kaiser.

Previous to her departure Captain Murras conferred at length with Captain Haddock of the Olympic, who had reported sighting a German cruiser on his way from England. The Olympic arrived safely and Captain Murras decided that he "could take a chance."

Wild scenes were enacted about the pier as the vessel awaited the signal that would send her out as a possible prey for German cruisers. Hundreds of women and children fought to get aboard and bid farewell to their loved ones going home to fight. Fifteen women fainted in the rush.

GERMANS HEADED FOR FRENCH TRAP

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, August 5.—Reports that the German army in invading France is heading for the gap between Toul and Epinal would indicate that the flower of the Kaiser's army is walking into a trap which has been prepared for years by French strategists. If the reports of their advance guard are correct they are marching into the famous Trousse d'Epinal, which was left purposely, as General Bonnal, the eminent French strategist said, "to in some sort canalize the flow of invasion."

The French in building their fortifications along the frontier left the gap between Toul and Epinal as a temptation to an invading German army as the line of least resistance. On either side are the Meuse line and the Moselle line, practically impenetrable lines of fortifications. It was the hope of French officers, that turned back from in elaborate defenses which edge the gap by the artillery and thousands of men which make these defenses so formidable, the German army would swirl into the Trousse d'Epinal as offering an easy road to Paris and lured on by apparent lack of resistance would suddenly find themselves enveloped on all sides in a cul-de-sac. The reports that during the present invasion French troops are falling back before superior numbers through the gap lead to the belief that the bait has already led the Germans within the jaws of the trap. The exact nature of the fortifications at the sides of the gap are unknown except to French army officers. Americans in driving through little frequent roads back of the first lines of defense have come upon huge cliffs, overhanging passes and lofty eminences from which have come peremptory challenges that have turned them back.

The Trousse d'Epinal is famous among French officers. The Germans appear to be walking into the trap set for them and, if the strategy of the French wins, into almost certain annihilation.

Tow Aground Off Esopus.

This morning the tug Levy with a tow of barges bound for New York City ran aground on the flats above the Esopus light. The steam yacht Bunker on its way to Poughkeepsie saw the plight of the tug and attempted to pull it off the mud into deep water but was unsuccessful. Several of the barges in the tow also got aground in the mud. The tug was unable to get off the flats and had to wait for the tide when the boats were floated and resumed the trip down the river.

Then some say we may get at the state road. It is our idea that some action should be taken in regard to this matter, for it certainly is necessary and wise that some officials take the affair in hand, and see to it that we get our state road. It is a terrible thing to leave a road in the condition of the one from the post office to the ferry, for travel is so great and it is a great inconvenience for not only village people but the traveling public at large. It is a shame to have to endure such things when if properly

NAVAL BATTLE OR THUNDER STORM?

Probably the latter, as the Admiralty denies all knowledge of heavy firing reported heard on the North Sea.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Aug. 5.—Numerous reports of a naval battle in the North Sea were flashed to London today from points on the eastern coast, but the admiralty announced this afternoon that it had received no official reports of a sea conflict. Officials there attributed a despatch from Margate saying that heavy cannonading had been heard on the North Sea to the fact that a terrible thunder storm was raging off Margate today and the sound of the thunderclaps was mistaken for the sound of guns.

The Central News Agency sent out a report that Premier Asquith had received information regarding a sea battle stating that two German battleships had been sunk or captured and a third escaped.

This report was officially denied at the admiralty.

New York, Aug. 5.—To the music of the Marseillaise and shouts of "On to Berlin" the French liner La Lorraine sailed for France today carrying 2,000 reservists who have gone to fight the Kaiser.

Previous to her departure Captain Murras conferred at length with Captain Haddock of the Olympic, who had reported sighting a German cruiser on his way from England. The Olympic arrived safely and Captain Murras decided that he "could take a chance."

Wild scenes were enacted about the pier as the vessel awaited the signal that would send her out as a possible prey for German cruisers. Hundreds of women and children fought to get aboard and bid farewell to their loved ones going home to fight. Fifteen women fainted in the rush.

GERMANS HEADED FOR FRENCH TRAP

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Paris, August 5.—Reports that the German army in invading France is heading for the gap between Toul and Epinal would indicate that the flower of the Kaiser's army is walking into a trap which has been prepared for years by French strategists. If the reports of their advance guard are correct they are marching into the famous Trousse d'Epinal, which was left purposely, as General Bonal, the eminent French strategist said, "To in some sort canalize the flow of invasion."

The French in building their fortifications along the frontier left the gap between Toul and Epinal as a temptation to an invading German army as the line of least resistance. On either side are the Meuse line and the Moselle line, practically impenetrable lines of fortifications. It was the hope of French officers, that turned back from the elaborate defenses which edge the gap by the artillery and thousands of men which make these defenses so formidable, the German army would swirl into the Trousse d'Epinal as offering an easy road to Paris and lured on by apparent lack of resistance would suddenly find themselves enveloped on all sides in a cul-de-sac.

The reports that during the present invasion French troops are falling back before superior numbers through the gap lead to the belief that the bait has already led the Germans within the jaws of the trap. The exact nature of the fortifications at the sides of the gap are unknown except to French army officers. Americans in driving through little frequented roads back of the first lines of defense have come upon huge cliffs, overhanging passes and lofty eminences from which have come premonitory challenges that have turned them back.

The Trousse d'Epinal is famous among French officers. The Germans appear to be walking into the trap set for them, and if the strategy of the French wins, into almost certain annihilation.

Tow Aground Off Esopus.

This morning the tug Levy with a tow of barges bound for New York City ran aground on the flats above the Esopus light. The steam yacht Bunker on its way to Poughkeepsie saw the plight of the tug and attempted to pull it off the mud into deep water but was unsuccessful. Several of the barges in the tow also got aground in the mud. The tug was unable to get off the flats and had to wait for the tide when the boats were floated and resumed the trip down the river.

German Cables Cut.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

ROSCOE IRWIN NOMINATED FOR REVENUE COLLECTOR

Nomination Sent by President Wilson to the Senate this Afternoon—Now Who Will Be the Next Postmaster?

Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, Aug. 5.—The president sent to the senate the nomination of Roscoe Irwin of Kingston, N. Y., to be collector of internal revenue for the 14th district of New York.

The salary of internal revenue collector in New York pays $4,500 a year. This is even better than being postmaster. It has been rumored for some time that the former mayor was casting longing eyes toward that position, which pays but $3,500. Evidently the leader of the Ulster county Democracy has been on a still hunt for the bigger job, leaving the contending factions in the ranks of his party to squabble over the postmastership. There is still hopes that "Doc" will land the lesser job.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

NAVAL EXPERTS COMPARE STRENGTH

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
London, Aug. 5.—Naval experts today declared that the overwhelming strength of the combined fleets of France, England and Russia would insure the defeat of Austria and Germany in a contest for supremacy on the sea. They prepared the following table to prove their assertion:

Germany—19 first class battleships, 27 second class battleships, fifty-four cruisers, all classes, 235 gunboats, torpedo boat destroyers, monitors and submarines.

Austria—Four first class battleships, nine second class, 12 cruisers, 86 gunboats etc.

Total—23 first class battleships, 36 second class, sixty-six cruisers, all classes, 311 gunboats etc.

England—29 first class ships, 48 second classes, 112 cruisers, all classes, 380 gunboats etc.

Russia—9 first class battleships, 12 second class ships, 15 cruisers, all classes, 184 gunboats etc.

France—17 first class, 15 second class, 31 cruisers, 356 gunboats etc.
Total—55 first class, 75 second class, 158 cruisers, 920 gunboats, torpedo destroyers, monitors and submarines.

Italy has 8 first class battleships, 8 second class, 20 cruisers and 128 small boats. If its fleet were added to that of Austria and Germany it would make the total strength of the Triple Alliance 31 modern battleships, 44 old battleships, 86 cruisers and 439 small ships.

LOCAL BASEBALL DOINGS.

Games Played or to be Played by the Home Teams.

The Mercury baseball team will play the fast Saugerties team on the Saugerties grounds, Saturday afternoon, and will play at High Falls on Sunday. The captain of the Mercury nine says that they will surely win both games, as he is going to take a strong team with him.

Ell Ellis, Jr., better known to old Hudson River League fans as "Dum-burgh" Ellis, who played with Newburgh and Poughkeepsie, has come back in good style and will pitch the rest of the season for the Walden team. He has been in poor health for the past two years. Saturday Walden plays the Astor team of Rhinebeck at Walden.

The fast Leader baseball team went down to defeat yesterday afternoon on the Athletic Field where they were defeated by the senior team of the Y. M. C. A. Only five innings were played, as the game was late in beginning. The Leader team seemed to be way up in the air, and had nine innings been played the score would have been much larger. The first run was made by the Y. M. C. A. in the first inning, after two men were out. The other two were made in the fourth and fifth. Due to the many errors that were made by the Leader nine, the final score was 3 to 0 in favor of the Y. M. C. A.

DIET AND GOOD HEALTH.

Food Should Be Carefully Selected and Properly Varied.

The eminent American physiologist Lusk says that nature, through the device of appetite, usually provides against the use of improper food, but that reason must play a part in food selections. A glass of milk and a piece of pie are poor materials for the brain of an active business man whose sedentary life requires 2,500 heat units or calories to maintain his body machinery.

We need also water, salts, proteins and certain newly discovered substances called vitamins. All these materials are to be found in milk, beans, bread and other great fundamentals of nutrition. Solutions of cane sugar or of glucose are not the exclusive mainstays of life, and yet glucose taken alone yields 2,500 calories at a cost of 4-1-4 cents, and 2,500 calories in the form of cane sugar cost 8-1-3 cents.

Glucose is the cheapest food fuel known, but, like cane sugar or butter fat, is not a complete food in that it does not contain everything necessary for life. Commercial glucose is absolutely harmless. A man must have sufficient calories in his diet if he is to live properly and perform labor satisfactorily.—New York World.

PANAMA CANAL OPEN AUGUST 15

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, August 5.—Secretary of War Garrison today said that the Panama canal will be opened to commerce on August 15 for vessels of draught of under thirty feet. He does not believe that any European power will attempt to involve the U. S. in the war by violating the neutrality of the canal.

No precautionary steps will be taken to guard the waterway. There is a guard of one thousand troops, including artillery, along the canal and the fortifications at the terminals have been so nearly completed that they could be used in case of emergency. With the inland forts, army officers say, the canal would be more difficult to capture than the Rock of Gibraltar.

DIET AND GOOD HEALTH.

Food Should Be Carefully Selected and Properly Varied.

The eminent American physiologist Lusk says that nature, through the device of appetite, usually provides against the use of improper food, but that reason must play a part in food selections. A glass of milk and a piece of pie are poor materials for the brain of an active business man whose sedentary life requires 2,500 heat units or calories to maintain his body machinery.

We need also water, salts, proteins and certain newly discovered substances called vitamins. All these materials are to be found in milk, beans, bread and other great fundamentals of nutrition. Solutions of cane sugar or of glucose are not the exclusive mainstays of life, and yet glucose taken alone yields 2,500 calories at a cost of 4-1-4 cents, and 2,500 calories in the form of cane sugar cost 8-1-3 cents.

Glucose is the cheapest food fuel known, but, like cane sugar or butter fat, is not a complete food in that it does not contain everything necessary for life. Commercial glucose is absolutely harmless. A man must have sufficient calories in his diet if he is to live properly and perform labor satisfactorily.—New York World.

TOO MUCH HONOR.

It Came With Such a Rush It Forced a Sudden Resignation.
William Collier, the actor, has a twelve-year-old son and a country home at St. James, on Long Island. One day in the spring the youngster came to him and said that he had just been elected captain-manager of his ball club, and in view of the honor conferred upon him he desired to show his appreciation in a substantial manner. He thought it would be rather a graceful thing if he presented his teammates with a tent, under which they might hold their business sessions and map out campaigns against the rival nines of the neighborhood.

Collier senior donated the tent and a table and a dozen camp chairs for furnishings and provided a site for it on his lawn. After the canvas had been pitched and the boys had assembled therein the donor slipped down to the back of the tent and hid there, with his eye at a crack, in order to hear and see how the boys conducted their meeting. He arrived just in time to hear his son say:

"My father gave us this tent, so I move we elect him an honorary member."

This motion was carried unanimously amid applause.

The first baseman stood up.

"Mr. Manager," he said, "we need some uniforms—regular uniforms. How are we going to get them?"

"I move," said the chairman, "that the honorary member be permitted to buy the uniforms."

By acclamation this motion also was adopted.

"We need some new bats and a dozen balls and a catcher's mask and chest protector and a lot of gloves, too," stated another voice.

"I move," said Master Collier, "that the honorary member be allowed to furnish those things."

ROSCOE IRWIN NOMINATED FOR REVENUE COLLECTOR

nomination sent by President Wilson to the Senate this afternoon—
Now Who Will Be the Next Postmaster?

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Aug. 5.—The president sent to the senate the nomination of Roscoe Irwin of Kingston, N. Y., to be collector of internal revenue for the 14th district of New York.

The salary of internal revenue collector in New York pays $4,500 a year. This is even better than being postmaster. It has been rumored for some time that the former mayor was casting longing eyes toward that position, which pays but $3,500. Evidently the leader of the Ulster county Democracy has been on a still hunt for the bigger job, leaving the contending factions in the ranks of his party to squabble over the postmaster'ship. There is still hope that "Doc" will land the lesser job.

NAVAL EXPERTS COMPARE STRENGTH

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Aug. 5.—Naval experts today declared that the overwhelming strength of the combined fleets of France, England and Russia would insure the defeat of Austria and Germany in a contest for supremacy on the sea. They prepared the following table to prove their assertion:

Germany—19 first class battleships, 27 second class battleships, fifty-four cruisers, all classes, 225 gunboats, torpedo boat destroyers, monitors and submarines.
Austria—Four first class battleships, nine second class, 12 cruisers, 86 gunboats etc.
Total—23 first class battleships, 36 second class, thirty-six cruisers, all classes, 311 gunboats etc.
England—29 first class ships, 48 second class, 112 cruisers, all classes, 380 gunboats etc.
Russia—9 first class battleships, 12 second class ships, 15 cruisers, all classes, 184 gunboats etc.
France—17 first class, 15 second class, 31 cruisers, 356 gunboats etc.
Total—55 first class, 75 second class, 158 cruisers, 920 gunboats, torpedo destroyers, monitors and submarines.
Italy has 8 first class battleships, 8 second class, 20 cruisers and 128 small boats. If its fleet were added to that of Austria and Germany it would make the total strength of the Triple Alliance 31 modern battleships, 44 old battleships, 86 cruisers and 439 small ships.

LOCAL BASEBALL DOINGS.

Games Played or to be Played by the Home Teams.

The Mercury baseball team will play the fast Saugerties team on the Saugerties grounds, Saturday afternoon, and will play at High Falls on Sunday. The captain of the Mercury nine says that they will surely win both games, as he is going to take a strong team with him.

Ellis Ellis, Jr., better known to old Hudson River League fans as "Dumpty" Ellis, who played with Newburgh and Poughkeepsie, has come back in good style and will pitch the rest of the season for the Walden team. He has been in poor health for the past two years. Saturday Walden plays the Astor team of Rhinebeck at Walden.

The last Federal baseball team went down to defeat yesterday afternoon on the Athletic Field when they were defeated by the senior team of the Y. M. C. A. Only five innings were played, as the game was late in beginning. The Leader team seemed to be way up in the air, and had nine innings been played the score would have been much larger. The first run was made by the Y. M. C. A. in the first inning, after two men were out. The other two were made in the fourth and fifth, due to the many errors that were made by the Leader nine. The final score was 3 to 0 in favor of the Y. M. C. A.

GERMAN WARSHIPS OFF MAINE COAST

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Boston, Aug. 5.—The British embassy at Washington has sent out a warning that two German warships are supposed to be off the coast of Maine, to intercept British shipping. The warning was received by the British vice consul at Portland, John B. Keating. It is believed that this warning was responsible for the sudden cancellation of the sailing of the Franconia from Boston.

FRENCH AND GERMAN CRUISERS FIGHT

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Boston, Aug. 5.—It is reported by wireless that a sea battle between a French and a German cruiser is in progress 80 miles off the Maine coast. A small cruiser is reported following the liner Lusitania in latitude 40.30, longitude 70.21 directly east of the island of Nantucket. The wireless is unable to distinguish the cruiser's nationality.

GERMAN TROOPS LOSE HEAVILY

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Brussels, August 5.—German troops lost heavily in today's fighting with the Belgian forces. This was officially announced by the minister of war this afternoon. He gave out the following statement: "Invasion of Belgium territory continues. The Belgian troops' systematic methods have enabled them to gain an advantage of the Germans. The Belgians have displayed the utmost pluck and courage. Their losses are very trifling in comparison with those of the German troops."

AUTOMOBILE NOTES.

The Kingston Taxicab Garage, George J. Schryver, proprietor, received a carload of Overland touring cars today.

In awarding to the lowest bidder the contract for the supplying of automobile number plates to be issued next year, Mitchell May, secretary of state, announced today that the color scheme chosen (black upon yellow background) had been selected as the result of recent scientific experiments by which it was demonstrated that this combination was the most legible. The secretary explained that the same design adopted in previous years would be retained, the New York tags generally being regarded as the most easily readable of all other commonwealths, where narrow letters and numerals have usually been preferred. The contract calls for a prompt delivery of 150,000 plates in duplicate before October first, although the total number to be registered during 1915 will probably reach nearly the 200,000 mark, as the figures for the first half of the present year indicate approximately 165,000 machines, an increase of about 32 per cent over the same period last year.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Wachmeyer are celebrating today their sixty-third wedding anniversary. Both are enjoying good health. Mr. Wachmeyer is the veteran furniture dealer on the Strand and despite his advanced age comes to the store every day when the weather is favorable.

COROT, THE ARTIST.

His Whole Life Was a Song, and Melody Permeated His Works.

Those painters who also have the feeling and some of the proficiency of a musician reveal it in their work. They are usually colorists, with more eye for the colors and tones of nature than her shapes and forms.

Such a one was Corot. He had a good tenor voice and played on the violin. He sang at his work and sang, too, when he was not painting, but wandering through the forest of Fontainebleau or around the village of Ville d'Avray, absorbing the beauty of the scene and storing up impressions for future pictures. In fact, his whole long life of seventy-nine years was to Le Pere Corot, as his friends loved to call him, a song.

And one feels it in his pictures, at least in his later ones, by which he is best known. Their coloring is subdued, like a lullaby or waking song, for it was the dawn or twilight that he preferred to paint. His works vibrate with the hum of melody, and here and there is an accent of effect that trembles like the string of his violin.

Corot's long life was a remarkable instance of a man being able to continue to the end the springtime of his youth.

Power of Falling Water.

Still water gives no power, no energy. Falling water has only as much power as is represented by its weight. A gallon of falling water will develop as much power as a falling block of iron weighing 62.5 pounds. Of course, the greater the fall the greater the power developed. Water falling one foot will develop a pressure of .43 pounds per square inch of pipe. The same amount of water falling 100 feet will develop a pressure of 43.1 pounds per square inch of pipe. Falling 1,000 feet it would produce a pressure of 433.0 pounds per square inch of pipe. To compute the power of falling water it is necessary to multiply the volume of flowing water in cubic feet per minute by its weight, 62.5 pounds, and this product by the vertical height of the fall in feet, and divide by 38,000, the number of foot pounds representing one horsepower for one minute.—New York World.

Wanted More Letters.

Annoyed by the injury done to one of his trees by the driver of the local bus, Mr. Kipling wrote a vigorous letter of complaint to the bus owner, who is also landlord of an inn. The landlord sold the letter for 10 shillings in each. A second and stronger letter followed, and this also found a purchaser, this time at 21, as befitted its increased violence. Boniface again said nothing. To him next day entered Mr. Kipling, briskly wrathful. "Why didn't I answer your letters, sir? Why, I was too busy writing them."

They pay a deal better than bus driving.

CASE
TODAYMENKE'S DAILY
SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, Aug. 5.—The spit-ball is falling into disuse. Very few of the twirlers in the big leagues are using it today, and those who do are using it sparingly. The wise pitchers have cast it aside, knowing that even though the use of the moist fling may add to their string of victories it will mean the shortening of their careers.Jack Chesbro, used it back in 1904 when he almost pitched the Yankees into the leadership of the league. But the use of the spit-ball practically ruined Chesbro as a star performer. Ed Walsh used the spit-ball for several years and his success was phenomenal. But the price was high, for Walsh's arm today is in such condition that he never knows whether it will serve him the full route or whether a kink will appear and force him to surrender the hurling job to a relief pitcher."Jeff" Tesreau used the spit-ball to a great extent when he first landed on major league soil. But he isn't doing it with such reckless abandon as of yore. Jeff soon learned that the spit-ball "kinked" the arm, if used freely, and now he throws it only in emergencies.There are several other pitchers in the big leagues who still throw the spit-ball, but they are throwing it just about a half dozen times during the game. Some of the fans believe they throw it oftener because of the deceptive practice by the pitcher—of putting the ball up near the mouth and seeming to lubricate it. Batters aren't fond of spit-balls. They hate to see them coming. So the pitchers who have discarded the use of the dampened twister, very often bluff at pitching one.The passing of the spit-ball comes as good news to the infielders. In the years when the spit-ball was generally used errors were frequent on account of the spit-ball. A pitcher would toss the ball freely with saliva and slippery elm or tobacco juice, a batter would hammer it to the infield, the infielder would grab it and start to throw, only to find that the slippery ball had slid from his fingers. Quite often the ball would take a wild slant and result in a horrible error.If the guideline spirits in the world of athletics don't stop making rules concerning the athletes there won't be anybody but reporters writing articles for newspapers.The last crushing blow dealt to "authors" has been handed out by the United States Golf Association which decided that amateur golfers who were receiving money for writing articles in which they explained certain golf shots were guilty of professionalism.In view of the fact that most of the leading golfers in this country have been doing that very thing, it would seem that we haven't any more amateurs in our midst—that is, none but the duffers.But the U. S. G. A. isn't going to be overly harsh on the fellows who have been writing and posing as amateurs at the same time. It probably will send word to them that as soon as their present contracts expire they must desert, or lose their amateur standing, but that no penalty will be meted out for their past offense. They probably will be forgiven on the pretext that they didn't know any better.The fact that the golfing experts will stop telling the duffer just how to play the game ought to be good news for the duffer. It even may save him from ending up in the madhouse. As matters have stood for a considerable period, the golfing recruit who tried to learn the game by reading the different advice of different golfing experts nearly always contracted delirium tremens or something on that order—and mighty little golfing wisdom.One expert would tell him that the drive from the tee was most important—that he should practice that. Another told him it was the approach shot that counted. The next told him it was all in putting.
Some told him that in putting he should look only at the ball; others pooh-poohed that advice. They said he should look at the hole."Learn the game backwards; begin by putting," was one bit of advice. The next article he read told him that the fellow who advised learning the game backward was aboob; that the only way to learn was to begin at the beginning.If the beginner put his whole weight behind a drive from the tee
he found, upon reading one article that he "done noble." Upon reading the next article he discovered that he was wrong. He shouldn't have put his whole weight behind the drive. Such an act might throw him off his balance, and, when in such a perilous condition, he might slice, or pull, or fizzle, or do a lot of other equally awful stunts.

Hot Liners.

"Oh, lookit what we are today."
The Pittsburgh Pirates cried;
"We uster have fond pennant
hope,
But they went off and died."Some of the disgusted Pittsburgh fans feel that some of the ball players—no mention! no names, mind you—ought to do the same thing.But the way they feel in Pittsburgh is charitable in comparison with the feeling in Cleveland. Out there they think a certain bunch of ball players ought to be shot at sunrise—or sooner.But maybe some of them do get shot sooner in some of the gilded soda water parlors in the Ohio city.It was reported here today on reliable authority that Kaiser Hank O'Day of the municipality of Chicago, has hurled an ultimatum at Czar John McGraw, of New York, which read: "Get out of first place or I'll kick you out September 1."It is believed that O'Day will defy the Czar. Gosh, what a swell
"white hope" Emperor Bill would have made.The American lightweights have mobilized and are ready to attack
Freddie Welsh the moment he crosses the American frontier."You gotcher nerve, a 'sticker' around," said the Giants to St.
Looney.
The cards just grinned, malicious
like.
And murmured,
"Bl-ole, bl-ole."

Attacked by a Cow.

Mrs. Charles Smith of New Paltz
was picking berries on the John Deyo farm at New Paltz on Monday when she was attacked by a cow. The animal tossed her over a stone fence and she received painful bruises about the head and body.

he should look at the hole.

"Learn the game backwards; begin by putting," was one bit of advice. The next article he read told him that the fellow who advised learning the game backward was a boob; that the only way to learn was to begin at the beginning.

If the beginner put his whole
weight behind a drive from the tee
he found, upon reading one article that he "done noble." Upon reading the next article he discovered that he was wrong. He shouldn't have put his whole weight behind
the drive. Such an act might throw him off his balance, and, when in such a perilous condition, he might slice, or pull, or fizzle, or do a lot of other equally awful stunts.

Hot Liners.

"Oh, lookit what we are today."
The Pittsburgh Pirates cried:
"We uster have fond pennant
hopes.
But they went off and died."

Some of the disgusted Pittsburgh
fans feel that some of the ball players—no mention 'no names, mind
you—ought to do the same thing.

But the way they feel in Pittsburgh is charitable in comparison with the feeling in Cleveland. Out there they think a certain bunch of ball players ought to be shot at sunrise—or sooner.

But maybe some of them do get shot sooner in some of the gilded soda water parlors in the Ohio city.

It was reported here today on reliable authority that Kaiser Hank O'Day of the municipality of Chicago, has hurled an ultimatum at Czar John McGraw, of New York,
which read: "Get out of first place,
or I'll kick you out September 1."

It is believed that O'Day will defy the Czar. Gosh, what a swell
"white hope" Emperor Bill would have made.

The American lightweights have mobilized and are ready to attack
Freddie Welsh the moment he crosses the American frontier.

"You gotcher nerve, a 'stickin' around," said the Glants to St.
Looney.

The cards just grinned, malicious
like.
And murmured,
"Bl-ole, awole."

Attacked by a Cow.

Mrs. Charles Smith of New Paltz
was picking berries on the John Devo farm at New Paltz on Monday when she was attacked by a cow. The animal tossed her over a stone fence and she received painful bruises about the head and body.

No Connection With Any Other Store in the City of Kingston

TO SAY THAT WE HAD A CROWD OF BUYERS!

At Our Final Clean-Up Sale Which Began Saturday, August 1st, is a Very Mild Expression of the Event

The word MOB would cover the actual conditions. Never in the history of Ulster county has a specialty Cloak and Suit Store carried the women by storm as did the Up-to-Date Cloak Mfg. Co.'s Store Saturday, August 1st. What does this all mean and what does it stand for?

CONFIDENCE

It is the very foundation of our business that draws the women like a magnet to our store, knowing that when the Reliable Up-to-Date say it's a Real Clean-Up-Sale and when they say Bargains they are Real Ones.

CLEAN - UP - SALE

Now the crowd was so terrific that one-half could not be waited on and as we have a tremendous stock to get rid of, come every day, as we are going to have surprises for you for the next ten days of this sale.

It would be a physical impossibility to sell out the big stock we have in two weeks, so you see your chances to get tremendous values are just as good for the next ten days as they were the first day.

Remember, we keep right on slashing right and left and don't put it off till tomorrow but come today to the Big Final Clean-Up Sale at

The Up-to-Date Cloak Mfg. Company 303-305 Wall Street
Kingston, N. Y.

280 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.
